Taft Leading Ike 8-1 In Illinois; Stassen Second

Chicago (AP)—Senator Taft of Ohio was driving toward a smashing victory last night in the Illinois primary after the apparent collapse of a write-in effort for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

On the basis of reports from more than one-fifth of the state's precincts, Taft was piling up a huge lead which indicated a trend in the heavy vote cast during the day.

In fact, Eisenhower was running in third place behind Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota—whose name was on the GOP ballot along with that of Taft. Taft had an 8 to 1 lead on Eisenhower.

On the Democratic side, Senator Kefauver of Tennessee was rolling up an impressive vote total as the lone Democratic presidential candidate listed on the ballot.

Among the GOP presidential hopefuls, Taft has 74 per cent of the vote, Stassen 12.5 per cent and

Senator Taft

Eisenhower 9.7 per cent, Kefauver piled up around 99 per cent of the reported Democratic vote.

Harold Rainville, executive secretary of the Illinois Committee for Taft for President, issued a statement at 10:30 p.m. (CST) saying: "We think this will be the stepping-stone to certain nomination for Senator Taft in the July convention. The results merely confirm that Illinois is strongly for Taft."

But Jerry D. Brandon, head of the Eisenhower for President Club of Illinois, insisted it was "too early" at that time to make any statement on the trend in voting.

There was no immediate indication of how many write-in votes there might be for Illinois' Gov. Adlai Stevenson, reported to be President Truman's number one choice for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In 88 precincts downstate, Stevenson had 306 write-in votes but in Cook County his write-in vote was not tabulated immediately. Stevenson, whose name was on the ballot for renomination as the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, had publicly discouraged a write-in move on his behalf in the presidential campaign.

With 2080 precincts out of 9,610 counted, the vote was: Republicans—Taft 132,642; Stassen 23,196; Eisenhower 18,090. Democrats—Kefauver (1158 precincts) 69,322.

The voting for Stevenson as governor was running ahead of the voting for Kefauver in approximately the same number of precincts. The returns showed about 40 per cent more Democrats voted for Stevenson for governor than voted for Kefauver in the presidential state.

250,000 Reds Ready To Strike

Washington, (AP)—William C. Bullitt told a Senate committee yesterday that Chinese Communists under Stalin's control have 250,000 men "poised to strike" at Indochina.

If they swarm across the border "as volunteers—volunteers in big numbers," Bullitt said the French and Allied native forces who have been fighting the Reds in Indochina for seven years will be wiped out.

Then, he said, the way will be opened for Communist conquest of Siam, Malaya, Burma and Indonesia.

Bullitt, who was the first American ambassador to the Soviet Union in the early 1930s, spent last December on the island of Formosa, the Chinese Nationalist stronghold.

Ike Reported To Have Asked For Release

Washington (AP)—Signs mounted last night that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has asked to be released from his military responsibilities to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.) told reporters at the Shannon Airport in Ireland that "it could be true" that Eisenhower has a letter en route to the White House requesting that he be relieved as supreme Allied commander in Europe.

"Write that if you like," Lodge said on his way home from a four-day visit with the general in Paris. "I can neither confirm nor deny it." Lodge is one of Eisenhower's biggest boosters in the pre-convention campaigning.

At SHAPE headquarters the best available sources close to Eisenhower expressed belief that he is resigning in a letter to be delivered to President Truman Thursday.

They said the letter was dispatched Monday to Secretary of Defense Lovett, with a request that he take it to the White House.

Spokesmen at the White House and the Pentagon said yesterday they had not sighted anything like a letter of resignation from the head of the North Atlantic Treaty forces.

Rosenbergs Lose Appeal

New York (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals, yesterday denied a petition by Julius and Ethel Rosenberg for a re-hearing on their appeal from their conviction of stealing the atomic bomb secrets for Soviet Russia.

Judge Jerome N. Frank wrote the opinion, concurred in by Judges Thomas W. Swan and Harrie D. Chase. The defendants plan an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Rosenberg, 32, an electrical engineer, and his wife, 35, were sentenced to death last year and their sentences were reportedly the first under the espionage act of 1917, which imposes death as a maximum penalty for espionage in wartime.

In a separate decision, with no opinion, Judges Swan and Chase denied a re-hearing to Morton Sobell, convicted of complicity and sentenced to 30 years. In the original decision upholding the conviction, Judge Frank had dissented and voted to give Sobell a new trial.

Allies Plan No Deal With Reds

Munson, Korea (AP)—An Allied truce negotiator today flatly denied the U. N. command would trade concessions with the Communists on two of three remaining barriers to a Korean armistice.

All this week the Reds have hinted they might drop their nomination of Russia as a neutral truce inspector if the Allies would make concessions on Red airfield construction.

After today's 11-minute sub-delegation meeting at Panmunjom, Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison told newsmen the nomination of Russia was "strictly a phony issue. . . I am convinced it was raised only to bargain it against airfields."

Penn State Warns Students 'Severe Action' Will Follow If Girls' Dorms Are Raided Again

State College, (AP)—Penn State students were warned yesterday that "severe action" will follow should there be another mass raid such as that which occurred Monday night on girls' dormitories.

The warning came from the College Disciplinary Committee, composed of representatives of students, faculty and administration, as a result of the clash between young men and women students.

The incident developed when 2,000 to 2,500 men students invaded the dormitories in a hunt for lingerie souvenirs. The young women met them with buckets of water and contents of ink-wells.

There was some scuffling between the groups before the men students ran out with their souvenirs. Two students, a youth and a girl, were slightly injured.

The statement from the Disciplinary Committee appealed "to the good judgment of students and to their pride in Penn State, not to take part again in a mass action which violates college regulations, the rules of decency and in some situations, the laws of the State."

The statement termed the raid "very regrettable" and added:

"If there is any repetition of this incident, the college will take severe action against all participants who can be identified through exhaustive investigation."

House To Call Newbold Morris For Questioning

Washington, (AP)—House investigators decided yesterday to ask Newbold Morris what he found out about skullduggery in government during his two months as the administration's anti-corruption sleuth.

Morris was fired by Attorney General J. Howard McGrath before he could make any kind of report—and practically before his investigation had begun. President Truman announced McGrath's resignation less than four hours later last Thursday.

Now the House Judiciary subcommittee has asked Morris, wealthy New York lawyer, to appear before it Thursday for questioning. The group is looking into McGrath's administration of the Justice Department.

Truman Notes Dangers Of Mass Suffering

Washington (AP)—President Truman declared last night that unless mass suffering in the world is wiped out, "it may be used in the future by some new dictator more terrible even than the Soviet."

In an address read by Secretary of State Acheson, Mr. Truman told an international gathering that the free countries, through mutual assistance, "are preventing conquest and world war."

"We have bought time—we have bought it at a great cost in lives and money," the President said.

He added that the time must be used to help peoples improve their own lot or the goal of true peace will never be reached.

The speech was read at the National Conference on International Economic and Social Development, which is discussing the administration's "Point Four" program of technical assistance to underdeveloped areas of the world.

Johnson Denied Court Claim For Back Pay, Salary

Washington, (AP)—Ex-Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson lost a battle in U. S. Court of Claims yesterday for back pay of $24,166 and restoration of a lifetime $10,000-a-year salary.

The court, in a 4-to-1 opinion, held that the 79-year-old former judge in the Middle District of Pennsylvania was mentally and physically competent when he resigned from the bench in 1945 and renounced claims to the annual pay.

Johnson, at the time, was being investigated by the House Judiciary Committee. Later he was tried on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and was acquitted.

Johnson filed the suit for the back pay and salary restoration in 1948 after his acquittal.

Two Die In Exercise

San Saba, Tex., (AP)—Two men were killed and 221 injured as 3,120 paratroopers of the 508th Regimental Combat Team leaped from troop transports yesterday to start a giant nutcracker squeeze in Exercise Long Horn. One died in the collision of two F-51 fighter planes. The other was one of the paratroopers.

Negotiations Continue In Phone Strikes

New York, (AP)—A four-man mediation team yesterday tackled the Western Electric Co. wage dispute, one of three strikes plaguing the nation's high-speed communications system.

The mediation talks began in mid-afternoon, the first since 16,000 Western Electric installers struck Monday. Later, mediators said they made no progress.

For a second day, Western Electric picketing—which could idle 300,000 telephone operators in 43 states—was spotty. All-out picketing by the striking CIO communications Workers Union was deferred apparently until Thursday morning.

Mediators also were at work on separate telephone disputes in Michigan, Ohio, New Jersey and Northern California. Some 31,000 operators and clerks struck telephone exchanges there Monday. They also belong to the CWU-CIO but have separate contracts.

Still a third strike, now six days old, has idled 30,000 AFL commercial Telegraphers, who punch out telegrams for Western Union in 2,000 cities and towns.

Wages are at the bottom of all three disputes.

Western Union claimed service now has been restored to 105 areas since the telegraphers walked out last Thursday morning.

The CTU has consistently reduced this company claim and stood on its original statement that the strike is nearly 100 per cent effective. In either event, a long strike is anticipated.

The CTU is demanding wage and other benefits worth an estimated 50 cents a hour per telegrapher.

Western Union has called its present wage of about $180 an hour "very fair" and has refused to increase it.

Although the telephone strikes endangered communications even further, the general public hardly has noticed it. Dial phones work pretty much by themselves unless long neglected.

Some long distance service has been slowed, although supervisory telephone employees took up part of the slack in the four states where operators struck.

Game Protector Held For Court

Norristown (AP)—Donald Croft, Montgomery County game protector, yesterday was held in $1,000 bail for grand jury action on charges he used poison illegally to kill wild game and animals.

The charges resulted from Croft's participation in the State Game Commission's campaign to kill rabbit foxes.

Croft was arrested on a complaint of Mrs. Marjorie A. Carson of Perkiomen Township. She testified before Justice of the Peace Walter Jarman that her dog, Wumpy, died March 26 by poisoned bait she says was intended for foxes.

Those powers, under the language of present laws, expire automatically upon the formal end of war.

The President sent an urgent request for such legislation to the capital Thursday, pointing out that the alternatives to it were delaying the effective date of the peace pact or dropping powers which he said are needed in the current emergency.

Those powers, under the language of present laws, expire automatically upon the formal end of war.

The President made it clear that he expected management and labor to continue their negotiations for settlement even under seizure and added "it is my earnest hope that the parties will settle without delay—tomorrow if possible." He said he did not want to see the government running the steel mills a moment longer than is absolutely necessary to prevent a shutdown.

Last night's history-making events were the climax of a wage dispute which already had shaken Truman's mobilization high command.

Charles E. Wilson quit as mobilization director in protest against the Wage Stabilization Board's wage-boosting proposal which, he said, was a "serious threat" to economic stabilization.

WSB recommended a wage increase of 17½ cents an hour, plus other major benefits. Take-home pay of CIO Steelworkers is now slightly under $2 an hour.

Wilson contended that if the steelworkers got this "package" increase the industry was entitled to a partially offsetting price increase. But other officials overruled him.

Truman's epochal step last night was taken in the face of protests in Congress that government seizure of the huge industry was illegal and might be a long step toward Socialism.

On the Senate floor yesterday, CIO President Philip Murray announced in New York, just an hour before the midnight strike deadline, that the members of his union "will work for the government."

Industry leaders, charging that Truman had entered into a deal with the CIO to give it a big wage boost and other concessions, prepared to send their lawyers into court today in a legal fight to the finish against the seizure order.

A steel industry spokesman told a reporter last night: "You can count on the steel companies fighting this seizure order in every court possible, in every way possible."

The President said he took his action under the Constitution and laws, and in accordance with his powers as President and commander-in-chief.

But industry leaders, backed by a number of legislators in Congress, were prepared to argue that he had no authority to take such a drastic step as seizing the great steel industry.

Broadcasting from the White House, Truman declared "our national security and our chances of peace depend on our defense production. And our defense production depends on steel."

He disclosed his seizure order shortly after industry-union negotiations collapsed in New York.

In his speech the President disclosed:

"First, I am directing the secretary of commerce to take possession of the steel mills and to keep them operating."

"Second, I am directing the acting director of defense mobilization (John Steelman) to get the representatives of the steel companies and the steelworkers down here to Washington at the earliest possible date in a renewed effort to get them to settle their dispute."

Truman said he acted under authority "vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the United States, and as President of the United States, and commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the United States."

In fact the Mount Pocono American Legion post, which annually supervises the affair, says the Bunny, by means of an extra biological flip, will not only lay eggs, but will lay numbered eggs. To accommodate the mythical rabbit, the Legion will supply numbered prizes. The child finding egg number 3 will draw prize number 3, for example.

The egg hunt will be open to youngsters not only from the borough, but throughout the area. The children will be separated into age groups for the hunt.

Trucker Dies At Wheel Of Truck Here

A Wyoming truck driver suffered a fatal heart attack early yesterday in the cab of his truck while passing through Stroudsburg.

He was Francis Jaylock, 35, driver for the M. K. Manufacturing Co., Wyoming, Pa.

Jaylock slumped over the wheel of the vehicle while the truck was stopped temporarily in Stroudsburg about 6:30 a.m. The truck driver's partner, not identified by authorities, took the wheel and continued driving the load of textiles toward New York.

At Delaware Water Gap the assistant driver pulled up for a traffic light, found his partner dead. The assistant driver went on, to the Portland office of Dr. Eugene Rushin. Jaylock was pronounced dead of a heart attack by Northampton county coroner, Dr. Martin J. Bechtel, at 7 a.m.

The body was removed to Horton funeral home at Johnsonville.

Late Tuesday afternoon the body was transferred to a Wyoming funeral home for burial Monday. Surviving Jaylock are his wife and two children.

Now Might Be Time To Fall In Love But -- Definitely -- Potatoes Are Not Cheaper

The lyricist who penned "potatoes are cheaper" evidently did so with tongue-in-cheek, at least the price of the fat-adding product would indicate today.

A spot check of grocery stores in the area shows potatoes have climbed sky-high on the market, and the product is exceptionally scarce.

"Only Maine potatoes are found at produce stands, grocers said, since their stock of local potatoes and new potatoes was cleaned out several weeks ago. Since that time they have been unable to buy what they desire.

Prices range from five pounds for 39 cents to the price per peck of about $1.25.

Arthur Ilti, Monroe County farm agent, said no information has been forwarded his office stating the reason for the shortage. Local grocers also are at a loss to explain why the stockpile of potatoes has dwindled. Several indicated the crop of the past few years was low. Others said potatoes were now on "black market" but the price was so high they were keeping hands-off.

C. Of C. Secretary Stresses Teamwork In Lions Club Talk

Jacob C. Wachtman, secretary of the Pocono Chamber of Commerce, addressed the Lions Club last night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel stressing the need of teamwork in community building. He made it clear that interdependence is a rule of life, that all have a stake in the community and that for civic betterment there must be civic work.

"The ideal community cannot be formed by pulling switches or pressing buttons," he said. "Teamwork makes leadership possible."

He stated that the 88 factory plants in this area have an annual value of $11,560,000 and that this represents our "foreign trade." The resort business value amounts to $12,000,000 annually and the agricultural products to $3,000,000. He traced the earliest application of the chamber of commerce principle which was by the Phoenicians and said that the most elementary requirement is that of teamwork. He indicated the responsiveness of the local chamber to popular requirements and suggestions and said that general excellence of any community, as regards schools, churches and civic affairs finds an immediate improvement in industrial production.

Ed. Boushell, who recently drove to Mexico City, where the Lions International convention will be held this year, told of his trip.

Former President William P. Deering paid tribute to a good friend of the club, Robert Hilton, whose funeral was solemnized on Saturday. He referred to the many

Holy Week Services

The solemn observance of Holy Week this year is enhanced by a new high in cooperative action by all business throughout Monroe County. A thorough canvass of the region has produced general agreement to suspend business activities for a three hour period from noon to 3 p.m.

Each year in Monroe County the annual observance of Holy Week with these services has produced a substantial outpouring of men and women from all walks of life, to meditate for the period of service and to listen to music and messages appropriate to this devotional season.

The mass decision to cease business operations should add to the greatness of the attendance of worshippers at services arranged for all sections of the county.

New Highway Signs

Installation of new and bigger highway signs, more visible especially for those who drive at night, will be hailed throughout the Pennsylvania highway system covering some 41,000 miles of major routes.

The new signs, which utilize reflector paint rather than the glass reflector buttons of the earlier types, are being placed at such a level as to put them in line with modern headlights, the state highway department engineers explain.

This is all to the good, for many times the traveler in unfamiliar territory has been unable to identify his direction sign in time to make the necessary turn, and even on occasion he has found himself going in a direction diametrically opposed to that in which he wanted to go. But no longer, for the new signs have large letters indicating "North" or whatever the compass course may be, so that there will be no reason for anyone to complain because he is being charted away from his desired destination.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington—It is unlikely that most of us know it, but we have been indulging in an "out-growth of narrow family spirit" in teaching our offspring a love and loyalty for the United States of America.

It was only on the publication of nine propaganda booklets, advocating world government and other totalitarian types of global planning, written by mouthpieces for the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization, that I realized my own and your guilt in this matter.

UNESCO exists on our tax money. Its blathering is tolerated in this country for reasons of our kindness, which in this case I believe is misplaced. As you might guess, UNESCO is an idiot child of the United Nations. The global do-gooders on its tax-free payroll include several dozen shaken off our State department's payroll by the imminence of loyalty investigations.

The general theme of the nine pamphlets is the promotion of world government. Reduced to its most simple-minded form, world government eventually would allow the Russian government legally to arrest and jail an American citizen held on real or trumped-up charges anywhere in the area that is to be allotted to the Soviet Union. Like baloney the globe would be sliced up and if our State department or the White House had anything to do with the boundaries Russia undoubtedly would get the most. She did at Yalta and Potsdam, remember?

But back to the poisonous booklets. Booklet five says: "The kindergarten or infant school has a significant part to play in the child's education. Not only can it correct many of the errors of home training, but it can also prepare the child for membership at about the age of seven, in a group of his own age and habits—the first of many such social identifications that he must achieve on his way to membership in the world society."

Teachers are urged to eliminate words, phrases, descriptions, pictures or other teaching methods that would cause pupils to feel or express a love for the U. S. A.

I hope I never catch one of my own children's school teachers doing that. And I'm sure none of them do. But the booklets are being scattered around. Teachers are being informed that "it is frequently the family that infects the child with extreme nationalism."

"Education is world-mindedness" and thus a political problem, UNESCO informs us. And the way to persuade the Teachers is by promotion of a children's charter and a teacher's charter. Contained therein is the demand that instead of teaching children geography and government by beginning with the local community, the state, nation and then the world, the process should be reversed.

Thus, the child should, according to UNESCO, be taught that his immediate surroundings are of little importance. It is the global picture junior needs!

Recognizing that some bright 8-year-old might remind the world government gabblers that we ought to clear up such nonsense as slave labor camps before embracing everything behind the Iron Curtain, UNESCO has a plan of counter-action.

Declaring that "not everything in foreign ways of living can be presented to children in an attractive light," UNESCO wants to make liars out of our teachers and feed our children untruths.

"The systematic examination of countries and manners can be postponed at this point," UNESCO says. In other words, forget about the existence of dictators, slave labor camps and the Katyn forests.

"The need is to seek only to insure that the children appreciate through abundant and judicious examples, that foreign countries, too, possess things of interest and beauty, and that many of them resemble the beauty and interest of their own country. A child taught thus about the different countries of the world will gradually lose those habits of prejudice and contempt which are an impediment to world-mindedness."

Prejudice and contempt for what? Firing squads, mass executions and propaganda lies? Teaching contempt for these things should be intensified in our schools, and if it is an "impediment to world-mindedness," so much the better.

Television dealers in the United States received from manufacturers 5,095,563 sets in 1951, compared with 7,068,000 in 1950.

Highest mountain peak in continental United States is Mt. Whitney, with an altitude of 14,493 feet.

Britain now produces about 40 per cent of all the food she consumes.

All of these changes have been made after long study, with the thought of improving the comfort and convenience as well as the safety of those millions of motorists annually driving on Pennsylvania's fine highways.

Now, if the department can only produce some signs that will induce better judgment in the so-called brains of those who cause the accidents, they will have performed a service of inestimable value. But convincing the witless driver of his witlessness is a long, and apparently too often a hopeless task.

Corn Crop Worries

Business Week, the magazine, reports that officials of the Agriculture Department are worried about the prospects for grain crops this year—especially corn.

They have been trying to persuade farmers to plant 89 million acres to corn this season. But their surveys show only about 84 million acres will be planted.

This could be bad, the Department experts say. A little adverse weather and there might be a shortage, which would affect the supply of pork, beef and poultry.

Their worries well may be justified. But there is one leavening angle to it. It might mean that the government would buy less grain to prop up the prices and, thus, have less to store in warehouses.

Hence, less to disappear through what Secretary Brannan lightly called "cracks in the floor" and less to spoil when Mr. Brannan's Commodity Credit Corp. can't get around to taking care of it.

Fifty-three per cent of the world's steel is produced in the United States.

The compound microscope was invented about 1590.

Broadway and Elsewhere

—By Jack Lait

All Over The Map The center of population for chorus girls is again Hollywood. Producers here have been finding the shrinkage more and more evident. There are several reasons:

Hollywood has been attracting many of the sisterhood, because musical films are far up in the scale of big grossers. Cafe floor shows in New York are turning more and more to individual stars, not ensembles. Many of the glamorettes have established themselves as TV bit-players and cannot "double" on account of rehearsal calls. The old Ziegfeld-Carroll-White days are past, when lookers were stand-outs and drew premium pay. Futures dimmed here with the paucity of "legit" plays, which drew consistently from the siren ranks. Too many of the top chorines who are married or otherwise anchored here still work and block newcomers.

One time the juke box was a source of music sweet and snappy. The singers warbled tales of love and everyone was happy. But now the singers tear their hair and wail of woes aghast as if their object is to make the whole world sad and dismal. And when the dreadful troubadours go off on wailing binges. It sounds as if the cellar door needs oiling on its hinges.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Somebody asked me the other day what people are most interested in.

I told him that I saw a newspaper advertisement a little while ago which was headed:

"Nothing interests people so much as themselves."

That may be so. I have a great habit of trying to listen to conversations at the next table when my wife and I sit in a restaurant.

It is a pernicious habit, my wife says, but I wonder whether it is any more pernicious than just being a newspaperman.

At any rate "I like it," to quote Jerry Lewis, the comedian.

Well, whenever I DO listen to these conversations, nine times out of ten people talk about their friends and neighbors.

"She said—," "He did—," "They are just big fourflushers," "I don't see where they can afford a new—," These are just a few of the things I have heard in restaurants of late.

So, you see people are NOT only interested in themselves. Their principal interest seems to be talking about others.

TV after May 22, because he has to act it in person, therefore stay East and be separated from his family in California . . . John Henry Faulk, CBS humorist, will lecture on brotherhood in many N. Y. high schools. He is a former U. of Texas prof.

Ethel Smith suggests the General's campaign be called "Recklessness of 1952."

"Is Anybody Listening?" the book by William Whyte and other editors of Fortune, has all the high-level huckster phraseology of the corporation brass psycho-analyzed and test-polled. It made me dizzy, especially the discussions of executive's wives. Whyte has a wicked sense of humor and a sharp feeling for human impulses despite the corsets of custom under those stuffed shirts.

"Communications and public relations" are coded and x-rayed. Whyte finds them pretty much cockeyed, unscientific, entangled in gobbledygook.

Jack Carter says politics is the field where one guy gives another a whitewash so he, himself, won't get the brush.

Stevenson On Hiss

When I listened to Governor Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois on "Meet the Press," I seemed to have had the impression that the governor was only asked by the court what others thought of Alger Hiss and that he replied to that.

So I went to the record. Governor Stevenson was interviewed by William B. Chittenden, United States Commissioner for the Southern District of Illinois, on June 2, 1949. This colloquy occurred:

"Q. No. 4: How long have you known Mr. Alger Hiss, the defendant?"

"A. No. 4: Since June or July, 1933."

"Q. No. 5: Where, when and under what circumstances did you first become acquainted with him?"

"A. No. 5: We served together in the legal division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Washington in 1933."

Taen Governor Stevenson said: "A. No. 6: In the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in 1933 we were working on different commodities. Our contact was frequent but not close nor daily. I had no further contact with him until I met him again in the State Department when I went to work there in 1945. Upon my arrival in the State Department at the end of February or early March to the end of April, when Mr. Hiss left for the San Francisco conference, he was, I think, largely preoccupied with the arrangements for that conference, for the United Nations Conference on International Organization at San Francisco. During that interval, from the first of March to the end of April, I was engaged in other matters and met him mostly in intra-departmental meetings and in connection with some aspects of the plan for the San Francisco conference, largely relating to matters pertaining to the handling of the press at the conference. I was at the conference, myself, as assistant to the Secretary of State from about the 10th of May until the end of June. During that interval Mr. Hiss was Secretary General of the conference and I was attached to the United States delegation. Our paths did not cross in a business way but we met occasionally at official social functions.

"Back in Washington during July, I had some conferences with him in connection with preparations for the presentation of the United Nations charter to the Senate for ratification."

"I resigned from the department early in August, 1945, and so far as I recall I did not meet Mr. Hiss personally again until he came to London in January, 1946."

"During that conference, in January and February we had offices nearby each other and met frequently at delegation meetings and staff conferences."

"I returned to the United States in March, 1946 and I do not believe I met Mr. Hiss again until the United Nations General Assembly in New York in 1947. At that time he was connected with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and I visited with him on one or two occasions at my office in the United States delegation headquarters in connection with the budget for the United Nations, which was one of my responsibilities as a member of the American delegation. I have not seen him since."

This is the extent of Governor Stevenson's knowledge of Alger Hiss. However, he was asked other questions which had nothing to do with other persons' opinions of Alger Hiss. He was asked and he answered as follows:

"Q. No. 3: Did you, prior to 1948, hear that the defendant Alger Hiss during the years 1937 and 1938 removed confidential and secret documents from the State Department and made such documents available to persons not authorized to see or receive them?"

"A. No. 3: No."

"Q. No. 4: Did you, prior to 1948, hear reports that the defendant Alger Hiss was a Communist?"

"A. No. 4: No."

"Q. No. 5: Did you, prior to 1948, hear reports that the defendant Alger Hiss was a Communist sympathizer?"

"A. No. 5: No."

I am sure that all this is very different from what I heard on the television show, "Meet the Press." However, the time gave out as the governor was discussing this question and maybe he would have explained it differently, or maybe, like Owen Lattimore, he forgot. It seems to me that this deposition requires publication because of Governor Stevenson's prominence as a candidate.

Try And Stop Me

A Sunday school teacher told her charges how Lot's wife made the mistake of looking back and was turned into a pillar of salt. "What's so special about that," demanded little Audrey. "My ma looked back once while she was driving our new Chevy and turned into a telegraph pole."

"Coin'tly not," was the vehement reply, "and the only 'ting dey're tryin' to pin on me dis time is robbin' me kid brudder's bank." "If I may be permitted to interrupt," spoke up the district attorney, "the prisoner neglected to explain that his kid brother is cashier of the First National Trust."

That, I think, topped them all. But at least she got a REAL recipe out of all those communications. Now her popovers are absolutely delicious—and perhaps that is one of the reasons why I can't lose weight.

The other was when I wrote about the fellow who had promised to send me a Cuban jacket from Miami. In the meantime I had found one in New York and I told my readers that if the man DID send me the jacket I'd be glad to let some needy person have it FREE.

He never DID send it to me, but I never knew before that there were so many people in this world who needed Cuban jackets.

Of all the diet letters I received, the one I enjoyed most came from R. J. Wheeler in Allentown, Pa. After giving me an elaborate diet he says, "After a week of this terrible diet I weigh the same."

And then he tells me a story which he thinks he read in Reader's Digest.

Six men were afloat in an open boat for ten days. They did not have anything to eat for ten days, and when they were rescued they had been reduced to skeletons.

That's one way to diet.

A friend of mine, Fred Lesswell, who draws the "Snuffy Smith" strip, has recently increased his weight from 210 to 240 pounds! He eats like a horse—including several portions of ice cream with rich sauces at every meal.

When a friend said to him "If you keep this up you won't live long," Fred replied, "What happier death is there than with a spoonful of ice cream in your mouth?"

That's one way of looking at it.

More Trouble Ahead

The OPS has ordered restaurants and lunchrooms to display by April 25th "easily visible posters" showing price ceilings on foods and beverages. We look for a season of good clean fun, up to the point where the customer and the proprietor enter into a hassle over what it all means, and, if so, what of it? Our guess is that the boss will have only a vague idea what the poster means and that the customer's notions will be wholly speculative. Each had better carry his own referee.

"These eating places serve seventy million meals a day," says the OPS announcement. "Up to now the public has had no easy way of knowing what the price ceilings were." From now on it may have a slightly easier way of knowing, if the lunchroom lighting is good and if the chart isn't too near the art calendar of the nude bathing beauty. But we are going to carry an interpreter, a lightning calculator, a decoder, and at least two lawyers with us any time we decide to eat and demand OPS observance at the same time. (It might be judicious to carry a parachute, a copy of the state athletic association fight regulations and a Red Cross kit.)

For sheer excitement we would like to have a ringside seat at the fight where a customer and the proprietor take up the issue involving two soft-boiled eggs, buttered toast, Federal control and the correct size for poster type. The OPS regulations can set back the cause of world peace and brotherhood for years. There will be reason for UN intervention the first time a customer, after ordering corned beef hash with a silenced by the romantic plottings of her bored male shipmates (you have to guess what really happened). In the last, a scared high-diver (Glynis Johns) suffers agonies from her 80-foot ladder and equally shaky marriage.

"Valley of the Eagles" is a cluttered chase-story filmed in Scandinavia. A Swedish scientist (John McCallum) sets out after his wife and assistant who have fled with his internationally important invention. Initial stages are clogged by trivia and pointless melodramatics.

CARRY ON from there. Our advice to is bring your lunch and avoid arguments.

An Indianapolis man has opened a self-service auto repair shop, a sort of flivver "automat" into which you drive a car, deposit a coin and fix it yourself . . . If he can combine it with one of those laundromats, where the wife does the washing these days, and put in some pinball, hamburger and coke machines, the American idea of life will approach the ideal . . . Shudda Haddim missed "Hannibal" at $3.50 in a recent race and has the usual alibi . . . "The stable tells me this skinner is a climber," he weeps, "and I forget he crossed the Alps breezing."

Groner Calls School Jointure Meeting For Monday, April 28

Officials Of Four Districts Are Invited

School board directors and school officials of Delaware Water Gap Borough and Stroud and Hamilton Townships have been invited to attend a meeting at Stroudsburg High School Monday, April 28 at 7:45 p.m. to learn about possible advantages in a joint school district.

The invitation was issued by Earl F. Groner, Stroudsburg superintendent of schools, in a letter to the boards and school officials this week. The Daily Record learned last night.

Also invited to the April 28 meeting are County Superintendent John C. Litts and Assistant Superintendent Walter H. Sebring.

The current move toward jointure in Monroe County follows a pattern first set by Chestnut Hill and Ross Townships which formed a jointure four months ago.

Hamilton Township has previously investigated the potential advantages in a jointure with the Chestnut Hill-Ross school district. Shortly after that conference, Mrs. Andrew Keiser, president of the Hamilton board said that Hamilton is interested in a possible jointure with any school district, not necessarily a specific jointure. Mrs. Keiser will address a forthcoming meeting of the Hamilton Township Civic League on the subject of jointure, according to Elwood Haney, a member of the Hamilton board who said last night that the board had received a copy of the Groner invitation.

Indications were last night that all three school boards and/or school officials from the districts will accept the Stroudsburg invitation.

Renewed interest in possible jointures between school districts in Monroe County may be traced to added subsidization through State finances. During the past six months the State has carried on an intensive campaign to encourage jointure in all areas which would benefit by it.

At a meeting of the Monroe County PTA two weeks ago, a State official from the Department of Education outlined procedures for jointure and described the two central methods used in forming a jointure between two or more school districts.

YMCA Board Seeks Federal Permission To Erect Building

Directors of the Monroe County YMCA last night authorized its Building Committee, headed by Dr. J. F. Noonan, to seek National Procurement Board permission to go ahead with the new building program and to obtain the necessary priorities for materials.

The object is to start work on the new YMCA as soon as possible, said Dayton W. Frankenfield, president of the board, at the directors' meeting in the Wyckoff tearoom.

Reports were presented by the three sub-committee chairmen and Harold T. Rinker, of the Rinker and Kiefer firm of architects. Dr. Noonan said the general committee had held two meetings at which the building project had been given careful consideration. Approximately $250,000 is available at present for the project, it was stated.

Jesse Flory, chairman of the committee on site, said his co-workers had given this matter careful consideration, visited realtors, besides personal inspections but could find no new logical site available at this time. The committee suggested the possibility of having the new building face Williams St.

General Secretary John R. Wilson read the report of the program and budget committee, of which J. Albert Groner is chairman. This committee reported as essentials swimming pool, gymnasium, main lobby, recreation room, combination lobby and game room for boys, an all-age-purpose room where large assemblies could be held and possible division in smaller meeting rooms.

The committee also called for a craft shop, main office for general secretary and one for boys' director and physical director, snack bar and adequate rest room and toilet facilities. It was also suggested that boys be segregated from adult areas for each group, also traffic to the physical department be isolated from approaches to meeting room. Elimination of dormitories and bowling alleys unless funds are available to provide for their installation was also advised.

Dr. Noonan, chairman of the plans and specifications committee, said first steps were to secure permission for building and for priorities. If successful in these approaches, other steps would be decided on how much of the building program could be carried out with funds available, secure bids after which final action could be taken and work gotten under way.

Ronson Has No Plans To Shift Plant

Newark, N. J. (AP) — A. H. Ronson, vice president of Ronson Art Metal Co., said yesterday "present plans do not include shifting our East Stroudsburg, Pa., plant to a new site in Woodbridge," south of here.

Aronson, whose firm is the world's largest producer of cigarette lighters, said the company has made a down payment on a 50-acre tract of land in Woodbridge for expansion purposes.

Aronson said Ronson needs more room for expansion and increased production, not available at its present Newark site. The tract is located near Route 25—main New York-Philadelphia artery—15 miles south of here.

Woodbridge officials said Ronson has made a down payment of $5,900, a tenth of the fixed minimum price on the land which will be auctioned off April 15.

"We don't expect to move our East Stroudsburg plant to Jersey. Where the story started and why they should be concerned, I don't know," Aronson said.

He said the company has talked over its plans with officials of the CIO United Auto Workers, bargaining agent, and "they know all about them."

The firm employs more than 2,000 members of Amalgamated Local 589 (UAW-CIO) in Newark and approximately 1,400 persons at its East Stroudsburg plant.

East Borough Stores May Change Hours

East Stroudsburg merchants are giving careful consideration to a plan for opening stores Friday nights.

Hanford Cleveland, president of the East Borough Merchants Association said last night he has named Paul Lloyd to head a committee to promote the plan and discuss the issue.

Cleveland added the final decision will be made at a general meeting of the association Monday, April 21 and indicated if Friday night opening is favored, the plan probably would go into effect in several weeks.

Natural Gas Firm Claims Supply Tight

Washington (AP) — The Federal Power Commission was told yesterday that the Columbia Gas System does not have enough gas to provide service to three additional Pennsylvania towns.

The statement was made by officials of the company in presenting exhibits to the commission relative to its supplies and demands for natural gas.

The commission is hearing the application by gas companies serving Bangor, Pen Argyl and Stroudsburg, Pa., for an order directing the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. to supply them with natural gas. Manufacturers would obtain the gas from Columbia.

The hearing is a resumption of arguments before the commission about a year ago. At that time, commission officials said, the Pennsylvania Utilities Commission opposed the request of the three local gas companies on grounds that Columbia, so long as there is a shortage of gas, should care for existing customers rather than add new ones.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'll admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—are not what they used to be.

But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning.

What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflo Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Crests standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

New Kind Of Furnace Put Under Floor

The compact gas or oil-burning floor furnace that can be installed beneath the floor and out of the way has practically revolutionized house heating.

Last year total floor furnace production was nearly one-half million units—more than the total of all other types of warm air furnaces.

Floor furnaces heat by circulating warm air but do not require ducts, cold air returns or blowers. Cool air is pulled off the floor into the floor furnace. The air expands as it is heated. Expansion of the heated air forces warm air circulation throughout the house.

The Coleman Company reports recent improvements have greatly increased the popularity of floor furnaces. One is a streamlined bottom that increases air flow as much as 35 per cent. A dual wall model that fits beneath an inside wall and discharges heat into two separate rooms even though the connecting door is closed, has gained widespread approval.

The same company advocates use of two or more floor furnaces with individual controls to obtain the advantage of "zoned" heat. Cost of installing two floor furnaces often is less than the cost of a conventional central heating plant.

Floor furnaces are made in several sizes to heat single-story dwellings with or without basements.

Porch Floor Can Be Resurfaced

A wooden porch floor which has become worn and rough from exposure to the weather can be given a smooth, weather resistant surface by the following method:

Replace any rotted boards with sound ones, scrape the surface of the porch to remove as much as possible of the roughness. Then cover with a thick layer of white lead. Over the white lead place canvas, well pressed down so that it will have complete adhesion to the white lead. Be careful to see that all edges and corners are imbedded in the white lead to prevent leakage of water under the canvas. Then finish with two or three coats of high quality porch or deck enamel recommended for outside use.

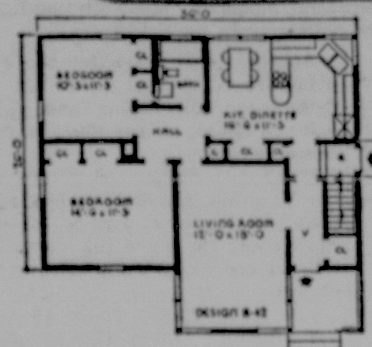

The manufacturer's directions on the container should be carefully followed.

Reflect Hobby In Man's Room

Make the room occupied by a man reflect his special interests. Strong wall colors and a light-colored floor contrast pleasingly with leather-bound furniture. Lamps with brown bases and beige shades picturing fishing, hunting, horse or nautical scenes, depending on his hobby, create interest. One huge picture repeating this motif, or a group of six or eight small prints telling a story on the subject, is effectively centered on one plain wall. Avoid ornate picture frames. Draperies with large plaid designs are better than figured hangings.

To Lighten Hallways

If your hallway is dark, don't select a deep-toned wall paint. An ivory-tan is pleasing for both wall and woodwork surfaces. Black is effective for the floor and may be further embellished with a flower motif painted in the center.

THE BYRON has a compact plan which features circulation between the rooms. All rooms open into a small central hall. The living room, kitchen and basement are served by the front vestibule.

There is ample closet space in The Byron. Each bedroom has a twin wardrobe. There is a linen closet in the hall; a broom closet in the kitchen and a coat closet at each entrance. The Byron's kitchen-dining room is a cheerful workshop with corner windows over the sink. The equipment is compact as well as efficiently arranged. There is cross ventilation and the room is convenient to the front entrance as well as to the bedroom area. The exterior of The Byron is finished with siding or shingles. The low hip roof with its wide overhang gives it a modern appearance.

Overall dimensions of The Byron are 36 feet by 32 feet 4 inches. This includes a full basement. The Byron's floor area is 1027 square feet. The house contains a volume of 18,000 cubic feet. For further information about The Byron, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Slanting Windows Add Light

Daylight admitted by basement windows can be almost doubled by replacing existing small conventional sashes with windows slanting away from the top of the foundation and enclosing the triangular end spaces between the foundation and new sashes with glass.

If the foundation wall is masonry block permitting easy removal, take out a section beneath each window and excavate bays 4 feet high, 3 feet deep and as wide as the window openings. Line this with thin cinder or concrete blocks. Slant the new windows from the top of the foundation to the outer edge of the bay.

Solid concrete is difficult to remove but windows can be slanted with this construction by installing concrete slabs on top of the ground beside the window openings and resting the lower edge of the new windows on the outer edge of the slabs. All joints should be absolutely wind and watertight.

Telephone Raceways Save Walls

Two of the most prudent precautions to take in building a new home today are the installation of adequate electric outlets for the constantly growing number of household appliances and the installation of telephone raceways.

After a modern insulated house is completed it becomes difficult and expensive to change its wiring system.

Telephone raceways are pre-installed connections that facilitate future instrument installation at almost any point in a house.

The advantages of plug-in telephones are something worth considering, especially in two-story homes. With a plug-in system, an instrument can be moved from one room to another and back again at will.

Built-in raceways simplify auxiliary telephone installations and eliminate damage to walls and decoration.

A substitute for built-in raceways has been developed in a raceway baseboard. This consists of two extruded aluminum interlocking elements. The lower one is screwed to the floor and the upper is a removable plate—the two concealing all wiring in a fire-safe panel.

Pipe Moisture No Problem; Insulation Halts Condensation

Moisture condensation on cold water pipes in summer and slow arrival of hot water to an open faucet in winter can both be cured by proper insulation, experts say.

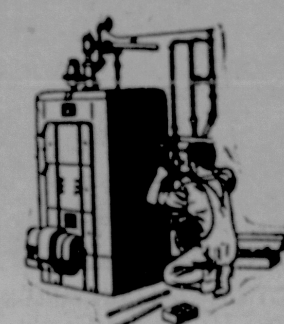

Condensation results when warm, humid air strikes the cold pipe, causing drops of water to form.

It is most frequently observed on exposed pipes in basements in summer, but is even more insidious when it remains undiscovered on hidden pipes. It often becomes quite serious when pipes are hidden beneath floors or in walls, for the water drip will damage plaster. The cure is to wrap exposed pipes with mineral wool insulation or molded insulating jackets. For pipes in floors, the remedy is to close all openings through which warm house air can reach the piping. Full-thickness wall insulation will prevent trouble there. Loose, modulated mineral wool is easily blown into walls and other inaccessible spaces in an existing house and not only reduces the danger of condensation on pipes, but provides greater year-around comfort. In new homes, batts or blankets of mineral wool are placed between studs and joists after plumbing is installed, completely enveloping the pipes.

Students Hear Discussion Of Careers

Representatives from 19 career fields addressed students of Stroudsburg High School yesterday afternoon.

The professional men and women acted as "instructors" before a series of three classes during the afternoon. Each "class" was made up of a different group of students who had expressed interest in the field discussed.

Two of the representatives came from outside this area. These were Miss Eleanor Little, an airline hostess for Eastern Airlines and Miss Naomi Hauser, nurse education - superintendent at St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem.

Representatives attending the conference from Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and vicinity were Mrs. Ruth Sibley who spoke on "secretarial work"; J. L. Cohen who discussed "accounting and bookkeeping" and Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College who addressed interested students on their possible future in "teaching". Selling in stores and general sales were treated as two different subjects with William Wyckoff in charge of the first discussion and the latter directed by Jack LaBar.

Boys who were interested in the potentialities of a trade as a machinist were addressed by Robert Phillips while Wendell Wicks discussed farming.

District Game Protector John Doebling talked on "animal husbandry and conservation." Preparation for a job in "building trades" was outlined by Loring Cramer. Ralph Speiser was in charge of the discussions on "engineering".

High Water Hinders Search For Body Of Drowned Youth

Masthope—The body of Roy Hess, 13, believed drowned in the Delaware River near here Sunday, still was being sought yesterday by police and scores of riverbank residents.

High water and vicious currents in the river have prevented launching of small boats from which to extend the search.

State police from Milford substation and from New York have been checking the river edge regularly on both sides in hope of finding some evidence of the Packanack Lake, N. J. boy.

The tragedy occurred shortly after the canoe was launched near this village Sunday morning. Young Hess and a friend, Fred Sherman, 15, Packanack Lake, embarked for a downstream trip to Port Jervis.

About 20 minutes later a three-foot wave swamped the canoe. The two boys struck out for the New York side of the river. Sherman helped the younger boy to within 30 feet of shore, then lost his hold. Sherman said Hess was about 12 feet from the bank and still swimming when last seen. Sherman crawled out, and found his friend had disappeared.

Bridge police downstream were notified to be on the lookout, and police teletypes carried the message a score of miles downstream.

Holy Week Services Announced

Mount Pocono—Holy Week services at the Mt. Pocono Methodist church will include Holy Communion Thursday night at 8 with the pastor, Rev. Philip Palmer, bringing a brief communion meditation message. The Preparatory Class of 16 members recently received into full membership of the church will receive their first communion at this service.

Good Friday afternoon, a service will be held from 1:30 to 2:30.

On Easter Sunday at 11 a.m., the pastor will speak on "The Easter Meaning." Both the Junior and Senior Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Williams, Pocono Manor, will sing separate numbers and one combined number. The sanctuary will be decorated with memorial Easter plants.

Palm Sunday was fittingly observed when the pastor spoke on "The Master Marches On." The anthems sung by the choir included "The Palms" by the Junior Choir and "All Glory, Laud and Honor" by the Senior Choir. The bulletins for this service were presented by Mrs. Mildred Schutt and Mrs. Henry Cruse in memory of their mother, the late Mrs. Susan Werkheiser.

Businesses Commended By Churches

New York—The growing number of business firms that arrange to excuse employees for church attendance on Good Friday, or close altogether for the three hour period when most services are held, were commended yesterday by Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, general secretary of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA.

An increasing number of churches in recent years are holding services on Good Friday, or joining in co-operative services, Dr. Cavert pointed out.

"The outstanding fact, however, is the active interest business firms and communities are taking in the observance of the most solemn occasion in the Christian religion," he said.

In the nation's capital, for example, in 1941 only 35 Protestant and Roman Catholic churches held Good Friday Services. By last year, more than 80 churches in the metropolitan area held three-hour devotions and worshippers had to queue up in the streets to wait admittance to crowded downtown churches. Services were also held in the Pentagon, the Department of Agriculture and the Interior, at Walter Reed Army and Bethesda Naval Hospital. By Presidential directive, all government employees were given time off to attend church, and by unwritten agreement private businesses also excused their employees for the three-hour period.

In New York City, the Stock Exchange has closed all day on Good Friday at least since 1900, but in recent years a growing number of business firms arrange to excuse their employees for attendance at services, and in Brooklyn, more and more stores close for the three hours in the afternoon. More churches, too, report Good Friday services, and attendance at the five-year-old interdenominational Lenten services in Town Hall was reported reaching a peak of attendance this year.

Dr. Harold S. Pond will be out of town from April 7 to April 15.—Adv.

ROAD TO RESURRECTION

Illustrated by Alfred J. Buescher

"Now he that betrayed Him gave them a sign, saying, Whosoever I shall kiss, that same is He: hold Him fast. And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, Master; and kissed Him. And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took Him." Matthew 26: 48-50.

"And they that had laid hold on Jesus led Him away to Calaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled. Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put Him to death." Matthew 26: 57, 59.

"Now Peter sat without in the palace; and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee. Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. . . the cock crew. And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crew, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly." Matthew 26: 69, 74, 75.

First Presbyterian Outline Observance For Holy Week

The First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg announces through its pastor, Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, the following services for the Holy Week observance:

Tonight at 7:30 a preparatory service for Holy Communion will be held. Members of the church will be confronted with the claims of the Christian life so that they may engage in self-examination and thus be ready for the experience of the Lord's Supper. At 7, just before this service, the church session will convene with the members of the Communicants Class, who seek membership in the church. The young people will give evidence of their faith and knowledge and declare their willingness to accept Jesus as Saviour and Lord.

Immediately following the preparatory service the adults who will be received into the membership of the church will meet with the members of the session and their wives. These new members will make answers to questions relative to their faith in Christ and will be introduced to the church by members of the session who will describe church activities and church obligations.

On Thursday night at 7:30 the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed. The new members will be received publicly into the fellowship of the church. The sacrament of adult baptism will be administered. A memorial minute will be observed for those members of the church who died during the year. Special music will be provided at this service by the Westminster and Senior vested choirs of the church.

On Friday a three-hour service will be held from noon to 3 p.m. The Zion Reformed Church will share in this service, as will the ministers of the four neighboring Presbyterian churches in Monroe County. Fuller announcement of this service will be made later in the week.

On Easter Sunday morning two identical worship services will be held, one at 9 and one at 11. At 7:30 p.m. the young people of the church will present their annual Easter candlelight vesper service.

Republican Womens Councils Honor State President At Luncheon Meeting Here

Republican women representing 14 councils in the northeast district yesterday paid tribute to Mrs. Russell W. Dixon, State president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, at a luncheon sponsored by the Monroe County Council at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Mrs. Dixon in turn paid tribute to the Monroe County women, who in a recent survey by the political activities committee were shown to have voted 93 per cent of the registered women voters in the county. This is the second highest percentage in the district surpassed only by Sullivan County with 96 per cent voting, she reported.

Mrs. Dixon outlined the history of the state council, soon to celebrate its 30th anniversary, with a membership of 55,000 women in 350 councils, the largest group in the national federation. She paid tribute to the founders, and pointed out how the aims of the council, created for political education, increased registration, and equal representation for women, were still being promoted.

The council maintains also its principles of financial independence, and neutrality in primaries. Mrs. Dixon, who has been appointed as delegate-at-large from Pennsylvania to the 1962 National Republican Convention, assured the group that whoever would be chosen by the convention as the party's candidate for President would be a good one, and worthy of the 100 per cent support of every voter, in what she termed the most crucial election in history.

Captain John Craig, Republican candidate for United States House of Representatives also termed the coming election the most critical. America can only be brought back to the ideals in which she was born and made by leaders who still believe in God and the ethics He taught.

Captain Craig was introduced by Ben K. Williams, Monroe County Republican chairman, who pointed out that the local council of women do win elections. With 52 percent of the American homes now in bankruptcy, he said, the coming election is the one that counts.

He also introduced Senator Montgomery F. Crowe, who warned that with Truman's withdrawal, the Southern Democrats might again join forces with the Democrats of the North, and that the Republicans really faced a fight ahead.

Mrs. J. Russell Custard, president of the Monroe County Council of Republican Women, hosts to the group, and newly appointed membership chairman of the northeast district presided at the luncheon, as she had at the workshop session in the morning when the council presidents, membership and finance chairmen of the district met with the state leaders.

Mrs. Maude P. Detweiler, state membership chairman, was also introduced and urged not only membership in the council but missionary work among voters, 900,000 of whom did not vote in the last election.

Mrs. Myrtle Applebaugh, vice chairman of Northampton county committee, and secretary, introduced Mrs. Craig.

Invocation for the luncheon was given by Mrs. Walton J. Dietrich, and the pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Olaf J. Pedersen, who also reported on the registration of 164 women, and introduced the presidents of the councils represented:

Mrs. Walter Roberts, of the Lackawanna County Council of Federated Republican Women; Mrs. George Jones, Dunmore Club; Mrs. Helen Evans, West Side Council; Mrs. Walter Roberts, 1943 club; Mrs. Genevieve Mecca, 1951 City and County club; Mrs. Lucy Evans, Blakely Club; Mrs. Helen Guse, South Side; Mrs. Grace Kaugher, 1938 Green Ridge; and Mrs. Almada Johnson, Liberty Council; all of the members of the Lackawanna Council.

Also represented were Mrs. Werner Jung of the Pike County Council; Mrs. George Humphrey, Pocono Mountain Council; Mrs. J. Melvin Kelley, Susquehanna County Council; and Mrs. Sue Price, Barrett Township Council. Prize for securing the most registrations during the year was presented by Mrs. Custard to Mrs. Fannie Kintner as the award given by B. K. Williams.

Child Health Committee Meets Needs Of 166 Children

A total of 166 children last year received help from the Emergency Child Health Committee it was reported at the annual meeting held Monday night at the new headquarters, 615 Sarah St., in Stroudsburg. Dr. Nina Mae Price was re-elected as president of the group;

Mrs. Thomas Shoemith, vice president, and Mrs. A. Byrd McDowell, treasurer.

Miss Helen Kulp, executive director, reported that the corrections included dental care, defective hearing, removal of tonsils and adenoids, skin treatment, visual training, audiometry testing, vaccination, toxoid administration and cod liver oil.

The corrections were made for children not cared for by any other agency in the county, and in cases where the parents were unable to pay for the necessary care, funds were provided from money given for that purpose by local church, service clubs and civic organizations.

The cases so treated were referred to the Emergency Child Health Committee by the school nurses, state nurses and public health nurses.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Doug Gordon's the clever one!

When he hung white ruffled curtains at a make-believe window in our fabric department, he tucked nosegays of forget-me-nots and roses into the tie-backs. It's a novel way of using Wyckoff's pretty floral accessories, and a hint home-makers will appreciate since the effect's as cute as a crocus! . . . One would hardly expect anything so tiny to attract so much attention, yet the little "shy violet" enameled pin with its cultured pearl, attached to the collar of my blouse the other day, drew compliments galore. "That's a lovely pin," my co-workers enthused. "It's very old, isn't it?" Talk about walking-on air (boom)! This was such definite proof, you see, that Wyckoff jewelry at $1 plus tax looks so "treasureable" . . . Yesterday a customer, physically unable to climb the stairs at Wyckoff's, asked if the Wyckoff Shopper would bring an assortment of blouses to the first floor. As she made her selection, I couldn't help wishing that everyone, who finds shopping impossible because of illness or age, would call upon me for a similar service. Such requests make my work interesting fun . . . Be sure to schedule your shopping on Friday so that you won't arrive in town between 12 and 3 p.m. That's when Wyckoff employees will be in church. See you there! . . . Nothing could be better than the aprons being worn by the girls of our Tea Room and fountain, now that Easter's drawing near. Of sheer or-gandy, the color of buttercups in the sun, they are embroidered with bunnies and colored eggs, and each rabbit has a fluffy tail of cotton. Wonder if it would be appropriate to describe them as "eggquisite" and Wyckoff food as "eggcellent"? . . . A few hops away, in the needlework department, are Bunny Lunch crib quilts all stamped and ready for embroidery. For $2.39 and a little effort, one can have a priceless gift for that new baby or an Easter-conscious toddler . . . On the same counter are cotton half-aprons, bound and stamped, selling for $1.29 and $1.59. The teen-ager and the young bride will love them! . . . And in our center aisle near the candy counter is a large table covered with Easter baskets in all shapes, sizes and colors, priced from 10c to 89c. Why not buy several in readiness for Peter Cottontail's visit? After all, you wouldn't want to carry all your eggs in ONE basket, now would you?

Especially the hats—there were some tremendous creations, I'll tell you. And I hope Myrtle

Postoffice Expands Service With Only One Per Cent Increase In Manpower

In spite of increased service to residents and augmented over-the-counter transactions during the past year, Stroudsburg's Postoffice is using less than one per cent more man-hours to accomplish its task, according to Fred Rhodes, postmaster.

Proof that service is being extended is evidenced today with the installation of two new corner boxes, one at N. Fifth St., near Bleck's Store, and another at Pocono Park Drive and Bridge St.

In volume the postoffice has increased its business annually since construction in 1935, and in 1951 handled $130,246.07. In 1950 figures show $117,445.57 was received by the employees there.

With a force of 27 on the payroll, Rhodes said, the employees have dispatched mail in large quantities, pointing to the land-office business of December when Christmas mailing accounted for $24,912.81 in receipts. In 1950 only $18,228.86 was realized during the same month.

And the Christmas rush, while increasing five per cent in numbers, required 20 per cent fewer man hours to fulfill, Rhodes said, with 34 additional workers given jobs to handle the flow.

Another outstanding credit to the local postoffice is their postal savings deposits. Fifty-five accounts total $50,603.

Postage stamp sales in 1951 totaled $30,803.30 and 2,644,113 letters were cancelled. At present approximately 10,000 letters are postmarked daily.

Woodling's mother. Mrs. Clarence Mills and Miss Ella Mills spent Tuesday in Easton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips of Scranton are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Price.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Latest reports from the baseball world indicate that Billy Long, second sacker with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1946 and 1950, will manage the Tarboro, N. C., entry in the class "D" Coastal Plain League, and not serve as captain and infielder as previous reports indicated. However, Long undoubtedly will be playing pilot for the farm club of the Scranton Miners, of the class "A" Eastern League. Long also piloted the Bangor-Berwick franchise during the 1949 campaign.

Tarboro has a working agreement with the Scranton, which in turn is owned by Lou Baselle, former stockholder in the Stroudsburg Poconos. Long first served under Baselle in Peekskill, where the likeable Long held down second base and served as field captain. Baselle, the man who has turned the paper trade into a fortune, was owner of the Peekskill franchise at that time. Billy, one of the all-time favorites with the Poconos, has the best wishes of everyone in this area on his newest diamond venture.

Bill Bailey, Stroudsburg High football and basketball performer, is a member of the Tannersville roster in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League. Harold Werkheiser and Art Youngken, former Pocono High athletes, are home on a 14-day leave from their naval base at Bainbridge, Md. Benny Borgman, featured speaker at the recent Blue Mountain League baseball banquet, at Tatamy, is now hard at work with the St. Louis Cardinals' farm clubs in Albany, Ga. Borgman is also basketball coach at Muhlenberg.

Dick Umberger, the biggest and best pitcher on the Lebanon, North Atlantic League roster in 1949, is now a member of the Omaha entry in the class "A" Western League. "Pidge" Browne, left handed swinger who received his start in professional baseball with Peekskill, of the North Atlantic League, is back at his familiar right field post with Allentown at the present time, at its Albany, Ga. training base. Alden "Red" Fetherman, outstanding three-letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, is seriously considering several college scholarship offers.

Art Wall, well known golf professional from Honesdale, begged another hole-in-one on the second hole of the Hope Valley Country Club, at Durham, N. C., while setting a course record of 62, which is eight under par figures. Wall, known as the professional with the most aces, bagged his latest hole-in-one on the 215-yard second hole, with a number two iron. Wall plays a lot of golf in Monroe County, especially on the Pocono Manor course.

Louie Lee, one of the best bowlers in the area, is a former star baseball player for the Bushkill entry in the Pocono Mountains League. The Varsity "S" Club banquet, listed for Thursday, May 22, will be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. However, a featured speaker hasn't been selected at the present time, but an announcement along this line is expected to be made in the very near future.

Harry Schaeffer, graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and former pitcher with the Stroudsburg Poconos, has apparently picked up two new nicknames since almost assuring himself of a regular pitching berth with the Bronx Bombers for the coming campaign. The new nicknames are "Skinny Man" and "Canary Legs" and knowing Harry, it's obvious that both names have a foundation. In fact, some veteran baseball observers are slightly worried over Harry's inability to gain weight.

East Stroudsburg High School held a lengthy baseball workout yesterday and it was learned that the Cavaliers would hold several practice sessions at the East Stroudsburg Playground during the Easter vacation. Four different officials are scheduled to work the two final tournament games at Stroudsburg High tonight.

The Stroudsburg High faculty took a lesson from the students in a rifle match last night, on the school range. Wilkes College faces a 13-game baseball slate this Spring, with East Stroudsburg State Teachers College providing the opposition in one of the contests. ESSC meets Wilkes in Wilkes-Barre, on Saturday, May 10, in an afternoon contest. It is the second game to be played that day by Wilkes.

Dodgers Capture Rubber Game Of Spring Series From Braves

Richmond, Va., (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers captured the rubber game of their nine-game exhibition set with the Boston Braves here yesterday by whipping the Braves, 4-1, behind the tight pitching of Clem Labine.

Two Clubs To Use Coolbaugh High Field

Tobyhanna—The problem of two teams and one baseball field was placed in the hands of the respective organizations last night by the Board of Education, during a meeting here at Coolbaugh High school.

The Pocono Lake-Tobyhanna combined, entry in the Pocono Mountains League and the newly formed Tobyhanna club, a part of the Pocono Mountains Baseball Association, have been ordered to work out their schedule in such a manner that both teams use the Coolbaugh High diamond.

Closed Dates
Both teams were warned that they could use the field at any time except Fridays, June 6, 13 and 20, at which time the Coolbaugh Township Volunteer Fire Co. has the field reserved for its annual carnival.

The Pocono Lake-Tobyhanna club was represented at last night's meeting by "Babe" Miller, while Charley "Chubby" Deubler represented the newly formed Tobyhanna entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball Association.

Chisox Slap Pirates

New Orleans (AP)—Orestes "Minnie" Minoso slashed out four hits in five trips to pace the Chicago White Sox to an 8-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates here yesterday.

Pro Cage Playoff

American League Final
Wilkes-Barre 85, Scranton 67. (Wilkes-Barre leads best-of-seven series 3 to 1).

Onawa Club Downs Faculty

Onawa Rifle Club had little trouble winning over the Stroudsburg High School faculty last night, 840 to 429, in a rifle match held on the Stroudsburg High range.

Scores
The Onawa members and scores follow: John Dennis, 80; Ray Fitzgerald, 85; John Minnich, 78; Joe Tamulis, 85; Eugene Anglemeyer, 76; Jack Ifft, 95; Jim Ifft, 93; Fred Smith, 80; Barry Albert,

A home run by Duke Snider, one of two he collected for the afternoon, got the Brooklyn off to a 1-0 lead in the first frame and they stayed ahead. Gil Hodges smacked a homer for the Dodgers in the fifth and Snider followed with his second round-tripper in the sixth.

Wild Throw
The other Dodger run came in the third when a wild throw by Pitcher Jim Wilson, Boston starter, allowed Carl Furillo to slide in from third base.

The Braves got their only run in the sixth when Labine loaded the sacks and Sam Jethroe talked in a fly to centerfield by Pete Whelan.

It was the first complete nine-inning job of the Spring for Labine, who gave eight hits. The Dodgers won the series from the Braves, five games to four.

Indians Gain Nod Over Giants

Houston, Tex. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians won the New York Giants once again yesterday afternoon, 5-0, for the Tribe's tenth victory in 12 starts with the National League champions.

Bobby Feller, a 22-game winner last year, pitched the first seven innings for the Indians, holding the Giants to five hits. The losers got three off George Zuverink, who finished up.

Poor Support
Jimmy Hearn went the first seven innings for the Giants. Hearn gave up only five hits and also would have been unscathed upon except for three infield errors which permitted two runs to cross the plate in the fifth. The other runs were made on three hits and a walk off George Spencer in the eighth.

Tournament Champions To Be Crowned Today

Action Set For Stroudsburg High Court

Basketball vanishes from the scene today, as the Junior Gold Medal and Senior YMCA tournaments feature their final and championship rounds at Stroudsburg High School. The Junior Gold Medal contest is scheduled to get underway at 7 p.m., while the Senior YMCA affair is slated to begin at approximately 8:15.

The Junior Gold Medal contest will send Cramer's Cut Rate against the Pocono Pines Shopping Center, a club made up of the Tobyhanna Township High school varsity cage machine that won its third straight Monroe County League championship during the past campaign.

Pocono Pines advanced to the final round with a 59-53 victory over Penn-Dell in the semi-final bracket, while Cramer's contingent ran over Biggs' Restaurant at the same time, 80-47.

Second Tussle
The Senior YMCA battle will be fought between Newell's Awning Men and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Both advanced through their tournament field without the slightest bit of trouble to reach the championship round.

Newell's club won over Sherman Theater in the semi-final round, 97-69, while the Vets took the measure of Deerhead Inn in the first half of the same doubleheader, 79-57.

Admission for tonight's doubleheader is listed at 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. Bill Crooks and Dick Lee will officiate the opening game, while Ray Lambert and Dick Dean handle the whistles in the second contest.

The tournament committee will meet at the Monroe County YMCA to pick the various winners of awards tomorrow, at 7:30 p.m.

Phillies Fall Before Cards

Winston-Salem, N. C. (AP)—"Vinegar Bend" Mizell, the Card's prize rookie pitcher, gave up only one hit in five innings yesterday as the St. Louis Cardinals slugged out a 9-8 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies.

One Hit
Mizell was touched for a blooper single by Mel Clark in the bottom of the fourth. He went out in the fifth when he tired.

The Phils sent an even dozen batters to the plate in a big seventh inning. They scored seven runs off George "Red" Munger on six hits, three walks and two errors.

Dean To Stay Down On Farm

Oklahoma City (AP)—Dizzy Dean said yesterday his days in the baseball world are numbered. It's back to the farm for the once great pitcher, now a colorful radio sportscaster who addressed the annual Lions club-chamber of commerce baseball forum yesterday.

Surprise
He surprised a reporter during an interview with this announcement: "This is my last year of traveling around. Next year I'm going down on the farm to stay."

The farm is near Dallas. Right now he's on his way to St. Louis to attend the world premiere of "The Pride of St. Louis," a movie depicting part of Dizzy's career.

Ennis Returns To Hitting Form By Taking Advantage Of Musial's Sound Advice On Swinging For Distant Fences

Winston Salem, N. C. (AP)—Del Ennis remembered something Stan Musial told him a few years ago and as a result the Ennis bat is booming as of old.

"A couple of years ago," said Ennis, "when they said Stan Musial was having a bad year because he was hitting only .320, he said his average suffered because he was trying to hit home runs."

"In 1950, when I had a good year, it seemed easy to hit home runs. So I thought I'd have the same kind of season in 1951. But I didn't. This Spring I remembered what Musial had said and decided I was suffering from the same ailment."

"So," continued Del, "instead of trying to hit for distance this year, I decided to just try meeting the ball. I don't know how many hits I have made through the box or over the infield, but I know that that's where most of my hits are going. The home runs haven't been as numerous this year, maybe, but when I did hit one, I noticed that I hadn't swung as hard as I used to."

So far this Spring Ennis has hit safely 32 times for 95 times at bat, an average of .337. He has made five doubles,

Yankees Edge Charlotte In Pitching Duel

Charlotte, N. C. (AP)—Allie Reynolds fanned seven batters in four frames yesterday as the New York Yankees edged the Charlotte Hornets of the class "B" Tri-State League, 3-1.

Good Pitching
The Yankee fireballer pitched to only 13 men, one drawing a base on balls. Reynolds came on in the sixth inning, after southpaw Ed Lopat had held the minor leaguers to four hits and an unearned run in five innings. The world champs managed only seven safeties off the curves of lefty Mike Dzingelowski and Zeke Zeis. The latter, a he-speckled right-hander, held the Yanks scoreless with only two hits over the final five frames to the delight of a crowd of 4,816.

Bob Cerv led the Yank attack with a triple and a single. Dalton Serfass, athletic chairman of the George N. Kemp American Legion Post, announced last night that an important Junior American Legion baseball meeting will take place on Wednesday, April 16, at the post home.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.
Ages
All boys between the ages of 13 and 20, interested in playing American Legion baseball are urged to attend the meeting.

A movie of the 1951 World Series, between the New York Yankees and New York Giants, will be shown at the meeting, through the cooperation of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Any boys wishing to try out for positions on the American Legion team are urged to contact Manager Del Davis, Coach Tom Carmella or Serfass.

Montreal Tops Boston
Montreal (AP)—Maurice "The Rocket" Richard scored on a sensational length of the ice dash last night to spark the Montreal Canadiens to a 3-1 victory over the Boston Bruins in the seventh and deciding game of their semi-final round National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoff series.

Senators Clip Reds On Homers

Bluefield, W. Va. (AP)—Four home runs provided most of the victory margin here yesterday as the Washington Senators edged out the Cincinnati Reds, 10-9, in an exhibition baseball game.
Gil Coan, Cass Michaels, Sam Mele and Mivkey Vernon-walloped roundtrippers for the Senators. The Reds collected three four-baggers by Ted Kluszewski, Andy Seminick and Joe Nuxhall.

Ace Battered
Washington battered Cincinnati's ace, Ewell Blackwell, for seven runs in the first three innings, then had to break a 7-7 deadlock in the seventh on Coan's homer after Cincinnati rallied.

A Red rally in the ninth fell short when "Hank" Edwards lined into a double play with the tying run on base.

Knicks Eliminate Nats From Playoffs

New York (AP)—The New York Knickerbockers won the National Basketball Association's eastern division playoffs last night eliminating the Syracuse Nationals 100-93 for their third victory in the best of five series.

Minneapolis
The triumph sent the Knicks into the league's final best of seven playoffs against Minneapolis' Lakers in St. Paul Saturday night.

Womber Fights British Title Holder To Draw In London

London, (AP)—Danny Womber of Chicago and British welterweight champion Wally Thom battled to a ten-round draw last night in one of the liveliest fights seen here in years. Each weighed 151 1/2.

From start to finish, the two-fisted slugging of both boys had the capacity crowd of 10,000 roaring in Empress Hall.

There were no knockdowns but the boys absorbed a lot of punishment as they stood toe to toe and slugged it out in the middle of the ring.

Verdict
Referee Sam Russell's draw verdict did not meet with the approval of most of the fans although a majority of ringside critics had the bout even. The Associated Press scorecard gave each five rounds.

Womber, a Chicago Negro, came over here last year as middleweight champion Ray Robinson's sparring partner. He has been boxing all over Europe since.

Mountain Loop Approves Slate

Bartonsville—The 1952 Pocono Mountains League baseball schedule was officially adopted at a schedule committee meeting here at the Bartonsville Hotel last night, it was announced by Danny Eppley, committee chairman.

Those members of the committee present in addition to Eppley were Bob Rundle, West End A. C.; Bob Hawk, Barrett; Harold Hironimus, Ansonmink; Lloyd Brong, Saylorsburg; Ed Judge, Pocono Lake-Tobyhanna; Clarence Smith, Kunkletown, and John Wernett, league secretary.

Announcement
The schedule will be announced in the very near future.

It was also announced that all managers must have their temporary rosters in the hands of the league secretary by the next meeting of the league, Monday, April 21, also here at the Bartonsville Hotel.

four homers and driven home 23 runs. Manager Eddie Sawyer is convinced that the big fellow is ready for a banner year. Last season, troubled by a bad back and apparently affected by the team's general slump, Ennis hit only .267. He had 15 homers and knocked home 73 runs, a very poor year for him.

"We've seen a lot of good pitchers this Spring and I've been pretty well satisfied the way my new system has been working out. I think I've hit the good pitchers better than I have the rookies and the wildmen," said Ennis.

Ennis' hitting improvement also has helped him in his fielding. Instead of standing in the outfield worrying about why he couldn't get his usual quota of base hits, his mind is free. He's been running high, wide and handsome after those long fly balls. Monday, for example, he made two game-saving catches, one with the bases loaded on Steve Bilko, and another on Harry "Peanuts" Lowery, as the Phillies beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5 to 4.

The Phillies have a good pitching staff. They had one last year. But Ennis the big man with the stick wasn't hitting. The runners were left on base. With Ennis once again smashing the ball to all fields the Phillies' pennant stock is booming.

Irvin To Return Home By Plane

Denver (AP)—Monte Irvin of the New York Giants, his fractured right ankle in a heavy cast, heads for home—Orange, N.J.—today.

He will go by United Air Lines, leaving here at 11:10 a.m., MST, and reaching New York at 7:50 p.m., EST, after one stop at Chicago.

The 33-year-old leftfielder of last season's National League champions was hurt sliding to third base against the Cleveland Indians in an exhibition game at Denver last Wednesday.

This was a crushing development for the Giants, who are without their sparkling second baseman, Eddie Stanky, now manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, and may lose their young centerfielder, Willie Mays, to the Army.

Hopeful
Big Monte thinks he may be out of action no longer than ten weeks, but other baseball authorities are doubtful he can return that soon.

Mercy Hospital nurses said yesterday Irvin "isn't feeling so well." They said it was nothing serious, just that he has been overdoing a bit since getting on crutches Saturday for the first time.

Monday Monte was named an honorary alumnus of Regis College, Denver Jesuit School, for his support of a drive to set up a $20,000 scholarship fund.

Tigers Swamp Crackers

Atlanta (AP)—Matt Batts, Cliff Mapes, Neil Berry, Pat Mullin and Ben Taylor blasted home runs yesterday to help the Detroit Tigers to a 10-4 victory over the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Association in an exhibition game.

Bushkill Practice

Bushkill—The Bushkill entry in the Pocono Mountains League will hold a practice session here on its homefield today, at 6 p.m.

Giants Acquire Elliott For Jones, Cash

New York (AP)—The New York Giants announced yesterday that they had acquired veteran third baseman Bob Elliott from the Boston Braves in exchange for pitcher Sheldon Jones and cash.

On Coast

Elliott, a holdout, has been working out with the San Diego team of the Pacific Coast League. The cash surrender was estimated at $50,000.

Elliott probably will play left field, a spot left vacant when Monte Irvin suffered a broken ankle in an exhibition game against Cleveland recently.

Mays To Claim Hardship Case

Houston, Texas (AP)—Centerfielder Willie Mays of the New York Giants left the club yesterday to claim a hardship case before his draft board in Fairfield, Ala.

Mays, who will be 21 on May 6, is the chief support of a family of nine.

Meeting
He said he has a meeting scheduled with the board today. If his plea is turned down, Mays will be inducted into the armed forces on May 16.

LaMotta Seeks Revenge In Detroit Ring

Detroit (AP) — Jake LaMotta, back in his "lucky city," says he'll stop Norman Hayes tonight in their ten-round battle at Olympia Stadium.

"And I'll get good and even with him," said Jake, the Bronx Bull who has lost only one fight in his 20 Detroit appearances.

The fight will be broadcast and telecast nationally starting at 10 p.m. EST. Jake will weigh about 165. Hayes about 161.

Hayes decided LaMotta in January in Hayes' hometown of Boston. Despite that, the 21-year-old Negro is a seven to five underdog here.

Jake explains it: "This time we're boxing in Detroit, not Boston, and that means a great deal to me." His only Detroit conqueror was Sugar Ray Robinson.

Victory Note
Hayes also sounded the usual pre-fight victory note: "I see where Jake has his whole family here with him. Well, that won't help him. I was a little worried the first time. But now I know for sure I'll beat him."

Hayes also won a surprise decision over Robert Villmain in Boston in December. Since then he lost to Laurent Dauthuille and Charlie Humez in Paris on decisions he describes as "homotown."

Jake has never been knocked off his feet since he started his pro career in 1941.

The stocky 30-year-old veteran lost to Robinson and Bob Murphy in his only 1951 fights. Then after losing to Hayes and drawing with Eugene Hairston, Jake announced a new policy — a fight every month.

If Jake can beat Hayes, one date that could await Jake is with Randy Turpin in London in mid-summer.

In the semi-final bout Private Ray Barnes of Detroit will tackle Jerome Richardson of New York in a 162-pound, eight-round fight.

In the main preliminary — six rounds at 144 pounds — Dave Marsh of Akron faces Tommy Matthews of Detroit.

your best, that you may just keep with your schedule.

YOU ROCK TODAY: Bright nature, generous, brave. Natural leadership abilities, but may seek to dominate others. That is good for you or your success. You must listen to others very often. You are quick to learn. Frequently, for knowledge is not enough. You need to apply your knowledge. You need to apply your God-given talents and ability: keep improving, but at same time recognize that others are advancing. You are a natural leader. Birthdate: Chas. (Pierre) Baudelaire, French poet.

Betty Clugston Valedictorian Of Stroudsburg High Class; Zandra J. Lee Salutatorian

Stroudsburg High School has announced its valedictorian and salutatorian for the current school year.

The valedictorian of the Senior Class will be Betty Mae Clugston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clugston, 838 Thomas St., Stroudsburg.

Salutatorian honors have been awarded to Zandra Jane Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Lee, 501 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg.

Miss Clugston's major studies at the school have been in mathematics and science with specialization in chemistry and physics in the latter field.

She has been active in the Girls Chorus, Mixed Chorus and Madrigal Group and is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, Math Club, and the Pioneer (yearbook) staff. She appeared in forensic competitions on behalf of the school and was a member of this year's Senior play cast.

Miss Clugston is a member of the National Honor Society and was winner of the 1951 Junior class spelling championship.

She has been accepted at Pennsylvania State College and will attend that school next fall as a science major.

Miss Lee is a member of the Honor Society, the Math Club, Art Club and the Pioneer staff. She appeared in the Senior play this year and the Junior play in 1951. She is also a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, the Student Council and the Junior Historical Society.

She represented the Senior class in spelling at the Allentown contest and placed second last year in advanced mathematics at the annual "math tournament" at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Other awards include second place in the national French contest, Lehigh Valley Chapter; second in chemistry at the North-eastern Pennsylvania Science Fair. She has been awarded a small scholarship to Bucknell University but hopes to attend Swarthmore college next year.

School officials, in announcing their selection of the award-winners, said that this year's race was "extremely close" with only a fraction of a point between the two girls' averages.

Truman Orders Seizure Of Steel Plants; CIO Union Calls Off Threatened Walkout

Taft Leading Ike 8-1 In Illinois; Stassen Second

Chicago (AP) — Senator Taft of Ohio was driving toward a smashing victory last night in the Illinois primary after the apparent collapse of a write-in effort for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

On the basis of reports from more than one-fifth of the state's precincts, Taft was piling up a huge lead which indicated a trend in the heavy vote cast during the day.

In fact, Eisenhower was running in third place behind Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota—whose name was on the GOP ballot along with that of Taft. Taft had an 8 to 1 lead on Eisenhower.

On the Democratic side, Senator Kefauver of Tennessee was rolling up an impressive vote total as the lone Democratic presidential candidate listed on the ballot.

Among the GOP presidential hopefuls, Taft has 74 per cent of the vote, Stassen 12.5 per cent and

Costello Gets 18 Months But Plans Appeal

New York (AP) — Racketeer Frank Costello heard himself sentenced yesterday to 18 months—his first prison term since he was a young man of 24.

The 61-year-old underworld big-shot drew imprisonment for twice defiantly walking out on the Senate's Kefauver Crime Committee here a year ago, when millions watched the proceeding by television.

He also was fined $5,000 for contempt of the Senate for refusing to answer committee questions about his finances and his political contacts.

Costello could have gotten 10 years and a $10,000 fine.

The Italian-born racketeer—often labeled "the prime minister of the underworld"—folded his arms as newsmen asked him if he had anything to say.

"No comment," he replied.

His attorney, Kenneth M. Spence said the sentence will be appealed. He previously had asked for a mistrial because a juror talked to a newspaper woman before the Costello verdict last week. This was denied.

Meade Returns To City Office

Philadelphia (AP) — William F. Meade, former Republican city chairman who was shot by an unknown assailant as he sat in the lobby of a downtown hotel last month, returned to his City Hall office yesterday and was welcomed by 200 friends and associates.

Looking over more than 100 floral tributes, he said as tears filled his eyes:

"If God wasn't with me I would have had these at my wake. I have no idea who could have done the shooting. Certainly no one had any reason to."

A slight scar was visible on Meade's right jaw where a bullet had been removed following the March 16 shooting.

Pierre, S. D. (AP) — Already weary from long hours of sandbagging and erecting dikes, residents of this capital city and nearby Ft. Pierre last night braced themselves for severe flood conditions from the rising Missouri River.

Military Budget Cut

Washington (AP) — The House clipped an additional $21,075,000 from the administration's $46.6 billion military budget yesterday and appeared primed for heavier assaults today.

250,000 Reds Ready To Strike

Washington (AP) — William C. Bullitt told a Senate committee yesterday that Chinese Communists under Stalin's control have 250,000 men "poised to strike" at Indochina.

If they swarm across the border "as volunteers—volunteers in big numbers," Bullitt said the French and Allied native forces who have been fighting the Reds in Indochina for seven years will be wiped out.

Then, he said, the way will be opened for Communist conquest of Siam, Malaya, Burma and Indonesia.

Bullitt, who was the first American ambassador to the Soviet Union in the early 1930s, spent last December on the island of Formosa, the Chinese Nationalist stronghold.

Ike Reported To Have Asked For Release

Washington (AP) — Signs mounted last night that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has asked to be released from his military responsibilities to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.) told reporters at the Shannon Airport in Ireland that "it could be true" that Eisenhower has a letter en route to the White House requesting that he be relieved as supreme Allied commander in Europe.

"Write that if you like," Lodge said on his way home from a four-day visit with the general in Paris. "I can neither confirm nor deny it." Lodge is one of Eisenhower's biggest boosters in the pre-convention campaigning.

At SHAPE headquarters the best available sources close to Eisenhower expressed belief that he is resigning in a letter to be delivered to President Truman Thursday.

They said the letter was dispatched Monday to Secretary of Defense Lovett, with a request that he take it to the White House.

Spokesmen at the White House and the Pentagon said yesterday they had not sighted anything like a letter of resignation from the head of the North Atlantic Treaty forces.

Rosenbergs Lose Appeal

New York (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals, yesterday denied a petition by Julius and Ethel Rosenberg for a re-hearing on their appeal from their conviction of stealing the atomic bomb secrets for Soviet Russia.

Judge Jerome N. Frank wrote the opinion concurred in by Judges Thomas W. Swan and Harrie D. Chase. The defendants plan an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Rosenberg, 32, an electrical engineer, and his wife, 35, were sentenced to death last year, and their sentences were reportedly the first under the espionage act of 1917, which imposes death as a maximum penalty for espionage in wartime.

In a separate decision, with no opinion, Judges Swan and Chase denied a re-hearing to Morton Sobell, convicted of complicity and sentenced to 30 years. In the original decision upholding the conviction, Judge Frank had dissented and voted to give Sobell a new trial.

Allies Plan No Deal With Reds

Munster, Korea (AP) — An Allied truce negotiator today flatly denied the U. N. command would trade concessions with the Communists on two of three remaining barriers to a Korean armistice.

All this week the Reds have hinted they might drop their nomination of Russia as a neutral truce inspector if the Allies would make concessions on Red airfield construction.

After today's 11-minute sub-delegation meeting at Panmunjom, Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison told newsmen the nomination of Russia was "strictly a phony issue. . . . I am convinced it was raised only to bargain it against airfields."

Penn State Warns Students 'Severe Action' Will Follow If Girls' Dorms Are Raided Again

State College (AP) — Penn State students were warned yesterday that "severe action" will follow should there be another mass raid such as that which occurred Monday night on girls' dormitories.

The warning came from the College Disciplinary Committee, composed of representatives of students, faculty and administration, as a result of the clash between young men and women students.

The incident developed when 2,000 to 2,500 men students invaded the dormitories in a hunt for lingerie souvenirs. The young women met them with buckets of water and contents of ink-wells.

There was some scuffling between the groups before the men students ran out with their souvenirs. Two students, a youth and a girl, were slightly injured.

The statement from the Disciplinary Committee appealed "to the good judgment of students and to their pride in Penn State, not to take part again in a mass action which violates college regulations, the rules of decency and in some situations, the laws of the State."

The statement termed the raid "very regrettable" and added:

"If there is any repetition of this incident, the college will take severe action against all participants who can be identified through exhaustive investigation."

House To Call Newbold Morris For Questioning

Washington (AP) — House investigators decided yesterday to ask Newbold Morris what he found out about skullduggery in government during his two months as the administration's anti-corruption sleuth.

Morris was fired by Attorney General J. Howard McGrath before he could make any kind of report—and practically before his investigation had begun. President Truman announced McGrath's resignation less than four hours later last Thursday.

Now the House Judiciary subcommittee has asked Morris, wealthy New York lawyer, to appear before it Thursday for questioning. The group is looking into McGrath's administration of the Justice Department.

Truman Notes Dangers Of Mass Suffering

Washington (AP) — President Truman declared last night that unless mass suffering in the world is wiped out, "it may be used in the future by some new dictatorship more terrible even than the Soviet."

In an address read by Secretary of State Acheson, Mr. Truman told an international gathering that the free countries, through mutual assistance, are preventing conquest and world war.

"We have bought time—we have bought it at a great cost in lives and money," the President said.

He added that the time must be used to help peoples improve their own lot or the goal of true peace will never be reached.

The speech was read at the National Conference on International Economic and Social Development, which is discussing the administration's "Point Four" program of technical assistance to underdeveloped areas of the world.

Johnson Denied Court Claim For Back Pay, Salary

Washington (AP) — Ex-Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson lost a battle in U. S. Court of Claims yesterday for back pay of $24,166 and restoration of a lifetime $10,000-a-year salary.

The court, in a 4-to-1 opinion, held that the 78-year-old former judge in the Middle District of Pennsylvania was mentally and physically incompetent when he resigned from the bench in 1945 and renounced claims to the annual pay.

Johnson, at the time, was being investigated by the House Judiciary Committee. Later he was tried on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and was acquitted.

Johnson filed the suit for the back pay and salary restoration in 1948 after his acquittal.

Two Die In Exercise

San Saba, Tex. (AP) — Two men were killed and 221 injured as 3,120 paratroopers of the 508th Regimental Combat Team leaped from troop transports yesterday to start a giant nutcracker squeeze in Exercise Long Horn. One died in the collision of two F-51 fighter planes. The other was one of the paratroopers.

Negotiations Continue In Phone Strikes

New York (AP) — A four-man mediation team yesterday tackled the Western Electric Co. wage dispute, one of three strikes plaguing the nation's high-speed communications system.

The mediation talks began in mid-afternoon, the first since 16,000 Western Electric installers struck Monday. Later, mediators said they made no progress.

For a second day, Western Electric picketing—which could idle 300,000 telephone operators in 43 states—was spotty. All-out picketing by the striking CIO communications Workers Union was deferred apparently until Thursday morning.

Mediators also were at work on separate telephone disputes in Michigan, Ohio, New Jersey and Northern California. Some 51,000 operators and clerks struck telephone exchanges there Monday. They also belong to the CWU-CIO but have separate contracts.

Still a third strike, now six days old, has idled 30,000 AFL commercial Telegraphers, who punch out telegrams for Western Union in 2,000 cities and towns.

Wages are at the bottom of all three disputes.

Western Union claimed service now has been restored to 105 areas since the telegraphers walked out last Thursday morning.

The CTU has consistently reduced this company claim and stood on its original statement that the strike is nearly 100 per cent effective. In either event, a long strike is anticipated.

The CTU is demanding wage and other benefits worth an estimated 50 cents an hour per telegrapher.

Western Union has called its present wage of about $1.80 an hour "very fair" and has refused to increase it.

Although the telephone strikes endangered communications even further, the general public hardly has noticed it. Dial phones work pretty much by themselves unless long neglected.

Some long distance service has been slowed, although supervisory telephone employees took up part of the slack in the four states where operators struck.

Game Protector Held For Court

Norristown (AP) — Donald Croft, Montgomery County game protector, yesterday was held in $1,000 bail for grand jury action on charges he used poison illegally to kill wild game and animals.

The charges resulted from Croft's participation in the State Game Commission's campaign to kill rabbit foxes.

Croft was arrested on a complaint of Mrs. Marjorie A. Carson of Perkiomen Township. She testified before Justice of the Peace Walter Jarman that her dog, Wumpy, died March 26 by poisoned bait she says was intended for foxes.

President Raps Industry Demands For Price Hike

CHAIRMAN of the Wage Stabilization Board Nathan P. Feinsinger talks to newsmen in New York as Federal officials pressed their efforts to avert a national steel strike.

Washington (AP) — President Truman, in a sweeping move, last night ordered seizure of the huge, strike-threatened steel industry, and the CIO Steelworkers Union immediately called off its midnight walkout of 650,000 workers.

The President, in a hastily arranged talk to the whole nation by radio and television, bitterly assailed the steel companies, saying they demanded "outrageous" price increases in return for wage boosts recommended by the government.

He declared they were making so much profit they could absorb the wage increases without higher prices.

However, Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer, whom Truman placed in command of the sprawling industry, said he does not plan to put into effect wage increases recommended by the government's Wage Stabilization Board "until the parties arrive at an agreement."

"The present arrangement will continue," Sawyer told a news conference.

He pointed out that John R. Steelman, acting mobilization chief, is arranging new negotiations between the industry and the union.

Sawyer said he will operate the steel industry "for the account of the government."

He said that whatever steel profits are now being made will "go right on" and that dividends to stockholders could continue.

He said that in his interpretation of the President's order, the seizure "will not be for the purpose of making money for the government" but that the precise legal effects as they affect the industry's finances "are up to the attorney general."

CIO President Philip Murray announced in New York, just an hour before the midnight strike deadline, that the members of his union "will work for the government."

Industry leaders, charging that Truman had entered into a deal with the CIO to give it a big wage boost and other concessions, prepared to send their lawyers into court today in a legal fight to the finish against the seizure order.

A steel industry spokesman told a reporter last night: "You can count on the steel companies fighting this seizure order in every court possible, in every way possible."

The President said he took his action under the Constitution and laws, and in accordance with his powers as President and commander-in-chief.

But industry leaders, backed by a number of legislators in Congress, were prepared to argue that he had no authority to take such a drastic step as seizing the great steel industry.

Broadcasting from the White House, Truman declared "our national security and our chances of peace depend on our defense production. And our defense production depends on steel."

He disclosed his seizure order shortly after industry-union negotiations collapsed in New York.

In his speech the President disclosed:

"First, I am directing the secretary of commerce to take possession of the steel mills and to keep them operating."

"Second, I am directing the acting director of defense mobilization (John Steelman) to get the representatives of the steel companies and the steelworkers down here to Washington at the earliest possible date in a renewed effort to get them to settle their dispute."

Truman said he acted under authority "vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the United States, and as President of the United States, and commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the United States."

The President made it clear that he expected management and labor to continue their negotiations for settlement even under seizure and added "it is my earnest hope that the parties will settle without delay—tomorrow if possible."

He said he did not want to see the government running the steel mills a moment longer than is absolutely necessary to prevent a shutdown.

Last night's history-making events were the climax of a wage dispute which already had shaken Truman's mobilization high command.

Charles E. Wilson quit as mobilization director in protest against the Wage Stabilization Board's wage-boosting proposal which, he said, was a "serious threat" to economic stabilization.

WSB recommended a wage increase of 17 1/2 cents an hour, plus other major benefits. Take-home pay of CIO Steelworkers is now slightly under $2 an hour.

Wilson contended that if the steelworkers got this "package" increase the industry was entitled to a partially offsetting price increase. But other officials overruled him.

Truman's epochal step last night was taken in the face of protests in Congress that government seizure of the huge industry was illegal and might be a long step toward Socialism.

On the Senate floor yesterday, Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) expressed fear seizure might lead to nationalization, and Senator Cain (R-Wash.) declared:

"I believe there is a determination to break down private enterprise."

Bricker said the steel crisis would have been solved long ago if it were not for the "meddling" of the Wage Stabilization Board. Senator Maybank (D-SC) declared another big steel wage increase would start another big round of inflation.

"Prices will go up and up," he warned. "The 1950 spiral will be nothing like it."

Maybank appealed fervently to labor and management to settle their differences "for the sake of Almighty God."

The President, in his speech, defended the wage increase recommendations of the Wage Board "as fair and equitable" and added: "What's more, I think the steel companies know it."

Saying the government-suggested pay increases were fair, the President declared "the steel companies could absorb this wage increase entirely out of profits and still be making much higher profits than they made in the three prosperous years before Korea."

He added: "The plain fact is—though most people don't realize it—the steel industry has never been so profitable as it is today—at least not since the 'profiteering' days of World War One."

The President took note of demands by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and others that he evoke the Taft-Hartley act to deal with the steel emergency. The act calls for an 80-day cooling-off period before a strike.

"This has not been done because the so-called emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley act would be of no help in meeting the situation that confronts us tonight," Truman told the American people.

He said that he would first have to set up a board of inquiry and "we would have to sit around a week or two for this board to report before we could take the next step."

Moreover, he said Murray's union has "already done more, voluntarily, than that could be required to do under the Taft-Hartley act."

He said the union had postponed its strike repeatedly, for a total of 99 days, whereas the maximum "cooling off" period under Taft-Hartley would be 80 days.

Truman said he acted because "our country faces a grave danger."

He said that if steel making stops, "we will have to stop making the shells and bombs that are going directly to our soldiers in the front line in Korea" and "we will have to cut down and delay our atomic energy program" and soon have to stop making engines for planes.

"A prolonged shutdown would bring our defense production to a halt and throw our domestic economy into chaos," he said.

Driver Posts $1,000 Bail In Fatality

Roseto—Michael Stampone, Bangor RD3, posted $1,000 bail here Monday night before Justice of the Peace Lewis Martorel and faces a hearing at 7 tonight, in council chambers on an involuntary manslaughter charge.

Arrested March 20 by Anthony Pullo, assistant chief of police, after his car hit five-year-old Grant Leon Kahler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kahler near his home, Columbus Ave. and Roseto St., Stampone was released under his own recognizance.

The child died in Easton Hospital the following day after being rushed to the hospital by Fred Tedesco, chief of police, immediately after the accident.

Easter Egg Hunt Scheduled Monday At Mount Pocono

Mount Pocono—Youngsters who still believe bunnies can lay hard-boiled eggs will hunt for the proof here at 2 p. m. next Monday.

Adults who know about such things say the Easter Bunny is expected to leave the evidence scattered in a field behind Mount Pleasant Inn (formerly Pocono Haven Hotel).

In fact the Mount Pocono American Legion post, which annually supervises the affair, said the bunny, by means of an extra biological filip, will not only lay eggs, but will lay numbers on them.

To accommodate the mythical rabbit, the Legion will supply numbered prizes. The child finding egg number 3 will draw prize number 3, for example.

The egg hunt will be open to youngsters not only from the borough, but throughout the area. The children will be separated into age groups for the hunt.

The Bunny himself is not expected to be present.

Now Might Be Time To Fall In Love But -- Definitely -- Potatoes Are Not Cheaper

The lyricist who penned "potatoes are cheaper" evidently did so with tongue-in-cheek, at least the price of the fast-fading product would indicate today.

A spot check of grocery stores in the area shows potatoes have climbed sky-high on the market, and the product is exceptionally scarce.

Only Maine potatoes are found at produce stands, grocers said, since their stock of local potatoes and new potatoes was cleaned out several weeks ago. Since that time they have been unable to buy what they desire. Prices range from five pounds for 39 cents to the price per peck of about $1.25.

Arthur Ilt, Monroe County farm agent, said no information has been forwarded his office stating the reason for the shortage. Local grocers also are at a loss to explain why the stockpile of potatoes has dwindled. Several indicated the crop of the past few years was low. Others said potatoes were now on "black market" but the price was so high they were keeping hands-off.

C. Of C. Secretary Stresses Teamwork In Lions Club Talk

Jacob C. Wachtman, secretary of the Pocono Chamber of Commerce, addressed the Lions Club last night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel stressing the need of teamwork in community building. He made it clear that interdependence is a rule of life, that all have a stake in the community and that for civic betterment there must be civic work.

"The ideal community cannot be formed by pulling switches or pressing buttons," he said. "Teamwork makes leadership possible."

He stated that the 88 factory plants in this area have an annual value of $11,560,000 and that this represents our "foreign trade."

The resort business value amounts to $12,000,000 annually and the agricultural products to $3,000,000.

He traced the earliest application of the chamber of commerce principle which was by the Phoenicians and said that the most elementary requirement is that of teamwork. He indicated the responsiveness of the local chamber to popular requirements and suggestions and said that general excellence of any community, as regards schools, churches and civic affairs finds an immediate improvement in industrial production.

Ed. Boushell, who recently drove to Mexico City, where the Lions International convention will be held this year, told of his trip.

Former President William P. Deering paid tribute to a good friend of the club, Robert Hilton, whose funeral was solemnized on Saturday. He referred to the many times that Mr. Hilton had appeared before the club in musical numbers, and all such services had been graciously made.

A guest of honor of the club, introduced by former President Emerson Rahn was Mr. Hilton's son, Cpl. Mark Dressel of the 807th Engineers on duty in the Army of Occupation in Germany, stationed at Hanau. Corporal Dressel flew home, hoping to be here for his father's funeral, but was delayed.

Harry Clark, member of the hotel waiter-staff, who has been absent for a long time following an accident that took place last Winter, was back on the job and was given a cordial welcome.

The first publicity for the coming Pennsylvania Lions convention was received. The gathering will be in Pittsburgh June 1 to 3 inclusive.

Outstanding features will be a

Holy Week Services

The solemn observance of Holy Week this year is enhanced by a new high in cooperative action by all business throughout Monroe County. A thorough canvass of the region has produced general agreement to suspend business activities for a three hour period from noon to 3 p.m.

Each year in Monroe County the annual observance of Holy Week with these services has produced a substantial outpouring of men and women from all walks of life, to meditate for the period of service and to listen to music and messages appropriate to this devotional season.

The mass decision to cease business operations should add to the greatness of the attendance of worshippers at services arranged for all sections of the county.

New Highway Signs

Installation of new and bigger highway signs, more visible especially for those who drive at night, will be hailed throughout the Pennsylvania highway system covering some 41,000 miles of major routes.

The new signs, which utilize reflector paint rather than the glass reflector buttons of the earlier types, are being placed at such a level as to put them in line with modern headlights, the state highway department engineers explain.

This is all to the good, for many times the traveler in unfamiliar territory has been unable to identify his direction sign in time to make the necessary turn, and even on occasion he has found himself going in a direction diametrically opposed to that in which he wanted to go. But no longer, for the new signs have large letters indicating "North" or whatever the compass course may be, so that there will be no reason for anyone to complain because he is being charted away from his desired destination.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington—It is unlikely that most of us parents know it, but we have been indulging in an "out-growth of narrow family spirit" in teaching our offspring a love and loyalty for the United States of America.

It was only on the publication of nine propaganda booklets, advocating world government and other totalitarian types of global planning, written by mouthpieces for the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization, that I realized my own and your guilt in this matter.

UNESCO exists on our tax money. Its blithering is tolerated in this country for reasons of our kindness, which in this case I believe is misplaced. As you might guess, UNESCO is an idiot child of the United Nations. The global do-gooders on its tax-free payroll include several dozen shaken off our State department's payroll by the imminence of loyalty investigations.

The general theme of the nine pamphlets is the promotion of world government. Reduced to its most simple-minded form, world government eventually would allow the Russian government legally to arrest and jail an American citizen held on real or trumped-up charges anywhere in the area that is to be allotted to the Soviet Union. Like baloney the globe would be sliced up and if our State department or the White House had anything to do with the boundaries Russia undoubtedly would get the most. She did at Yalta and Potsdam, remember?

But back to the poisonous booklets. Booklet five says: "The kindergarten or infant school has a significant part to play in the child's education. Not only can it correct many of the errors of home training, but it can also prepare the child for membership, at about the age of seven, in a group of his own age and habits—the first of many such social identifications that he must achieve on his way to membership in the world society."

Teachers are urged to eliminate words, phrases, descriptions, pictures or other teaching methods that would cause pupils to feel or express a love for the U. S. A.

I hope I never catch one of my own children's school teachers doing that. And I'm sure none of them do. But the booklets are being scattered around. Teachers are being informed that "it is frequently the family that infects the child with extreme nationalism."

"Education is world-mindedness and thus a political problem," UNESCO informs us. And the way to persuade the Teachers is by promotion of a children's charter and a teacher's charter. Contained therein is the demand that instead of teaching children geography and government by beginning with the local community, the state, nation and then the world, the process should be reversed.

Thus, the child should, according to UNESCO, be taught that his immediate surroundings are of little importance. It is the global picture junior needs!

Recognizing that some bright 8-year-old might remind the world government gabbler that we ought to clear up such problems as slave labor camps before embracing everything behind the Iron Curtain, UNESCO has a plan of counter-attack.

Declaring that "not everything in foreign ways of living can be presented to children in an attractive light," UNESCO wants to make liars out of our teachers and feed our children untruths.

"The systematic examination of countries and manners can be postponed at this point," UNESCO says. In other words, forget about the existence of dictators, slave labor camps and the Katyn forests.

"The need is to seek only to inspire that the children appreciate through abundant and judicious examples, that foreign countries, too, possess things of interest and beauty, and that many of them resemble the beauty and interest of their own country. A child taught thus about the different countries of the world will gradually lose those habits of prejudice and contempt which are an impediment to world-mindedness."

Prejudice and contempt for what? Firing squads, mass executions and propaganda lies? Teaching contempt for these things should be intensified in our schools, and if it is an "impediment to world-mindedness," so much the better.

Television dealers in the United States received from manufacturers 5,093,563 sets in 1951, compared with 7,068,000 in 1950.

Highest mountain peak in continental United States is Mt. Whitney, with an altitude of 14,495 feet.

Britain now produces about 40 per cent of all the food she consumes.

All of these changes have been made after long study, with the thought of improving the comfort and convenience as well as the safety of those millions of motorists annually driving on Pennsylvania's fine highways.

Now, if the department can only produce some signs that will induce better judgment in the so-called brains of those who cause the accidents, they will have performed a service of inestimable value. But convincing the witless driver of his witlessness is a long, and apparently too often a hopeless task.

Corn Crop Worries

Business Week, the magazine, reports that officials of the Agriculture Department are worried about the prospects for grain crops this year—especially corn.

They have been trying to persuade farmers to plant 89 million acres to corn this season. But their surveys show only about 84 million acres will be planted.

This could be bad, the Department experts say. A little adverse weather and there might be a shortage, which would affect the supply of pork, beef and poultry.

Their worries well may be justified. But there is one leavening angle to it. It might mean that the government would buy less grain to prop up the prices and, thus, have less to store in warehouses.

Hence, less to disappear through what Secretary Brannan lightly called "cracks in the floor" and less to spoil when Mr. Brannan's Commodity Credit Corp. can't get around to taking care of it.

Fifty-three per cent of the world's steel is produced in the United States.

All Over The Map

The center of population for chorus girls is again Hollywood. Producers here have been finding the shrinkage more and more evident. There are several reasons.

Hollywood has been attracting many of the sisterhood, because musical films are far up in the scale of big grossers. Cafe floorshows in New York are turning more and more to individual stars, not ensembles. Many of the glamorettes have established themselves as TV bit-players and cannot "double" on account of rehearsal calls. The old Ziegfeld-Carroll-White days are past, when lookers were stand-outs and drew premium pay. Futures dimmed here with the paucity of "legit" plays, which drew consistently from the siren ranks. Too many of the top chorines who are married or otherwise anchored here still work and block newcomers.

One time the juke box was a source of music sweet and snappy. The singers warbled tales of love and everyone was happy. But now the singers tear their hair and wail of woes abysmal. As if their object is to make the whole world sad and dismal. And when the doleful troubadours go off on wailing binges. It sounds as if the cellar door needs oiling on its hinges.

When I listened to Governor Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois on "Meet the Press," I seemed to have had the impression that the governor was only asked by the court what others thought of Alger Hiss and that he replied to that.

So I went to the record. Governor Stevenson was interviewed by William B. Chittenden, United States Commissioner for the Southern District of Illinois, on June 2, 1949. This colloquy occurred:

"Q. No. 4: How long have you known Mr. Alger Hiss, the defendant?"

"A. No. 4: Since June or July, 1933."

"Q. No. 5: Where, when and under what circumstances did you first become acquainted with him?"

"A. No. 5: We served together in the legal division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Washington in 1933."

Then Governor Stevenson said: "A. No. 6: In the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in 1933 we were working on different commodities. Our contact was frequent but not close nor daily. I had no further contact with him until I met him again in the State Department when I went to work there in 1945. Upon my arrival in the State Department at the end of February or early March to the end of April, when Mr. Hiss left for the San Francisco conference, he was, I think, largely preoccupied with the arrangements for that conference, for the United Nations Conference on International Organization at San Francisco. During that interval, from the first of March to the end of April, I was engaged in other matters and met him mostly in intra-departmental meetings and in connection with some aspects of the plan for the San Francisco conference, largely relating to matters pertaining to the handling of the press at the conference. I was at the conference, myself, as assistant to the Secretary of State from about the 10th of May until the end of June. During that interval Mr. Hiss was Secretary General of the conference and I was attached to the United States delegation. Our paths did not cross in a business way but we met occasionally at official social functions.

"Back in Washington during July, I had some conferences with him in connection with preparations for the presentation of the United Nations charter to the Senate for ratification."

"I resigned from the department early in August, 1945, and so far as I recall I did not meet Mr. Hiss personally again until he came to London in January, 1946 . . . During that conference in January and February we had offices nearby each other and met frequently at delegation meetings and staff conferences."

"I returned to the United States in March, 1946 and I do not believe I met Mr. Hiss again until the United Nations General Assembly in New York in 1947. At that time he was connected with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and I visited with him on one or two occasions at my office in the United States delegation headquarters in connection with the budget for the United Nations, which was one of my responsibilities as a member of the American delegation. I have not seen him since."

This is the extent of Governor Stevenson's knowledge of Alger Hiss. However, he was asked other questions which had nothing to do with other persons' opinions of Alger Hiss. He was asked and he answered as follows:

"Q. No. 3: Did you, prior to 1948, hear that the defendant Alger Hiss during the years 1937 and 1938 removed confidential and secret documents from the State Department and made such documents available to persons not authorized to see or receive them?"

"A. No. 3: No."

"Q. No. 4: Did you, prior to 1948, hear reports that the defendant Alger Hiss was a Communist?"

"A. No. 4: No."

"Q. No. 5: Did you, prior to 1948, hear reports that the defendant Alger Hiss was a Communist sympathizer?"

"A. No. 5: No."

I am sure that all this is very different from what I heard on the television show, "Meet the Press." However, the time gave out as the governor was discussing this question and maybe he would have explained it differently, or maybe, like Owen Lattimore, he forgot. It seems to me that this deposition requires publication because of Governor Stevenson's prominence as a candidate.

Hollywood—Watch a crazy man aim a powerful rifle at a pretty girl. See, through his eye the cross-hairs of his telescope sight line up on the back of her head. Tense stuff, sure. But first, second or third time. But after a while, even killing gets monotonous.

That's the weakness of "The Sniper," a fairly high-powered suspense movie about a sex psychopath on the loose in a big city. It draws an effective bead on an old problem: A police-psychiatrist pleads eloquently for more hospitals where potential killers can be treated when first detected. Civic leaders talk about the cost.

Newcomer Arthur Franz, curly-haired and boyish-faced, is good in the title role—a cleaner's deliveryman by day, killer by night. Marie Windsor, as a saloon pianist, is the first of his victims. Adolphe Menjou, minus his mustache, is the police lieutenant who leads a long and frustrating search. The hilly San Francisco exteriors are interesting.

More Trouble Ahead

The OPS has ordered restaurants and lunchrooms to display by April 25th "easily visible" posters showing price ceilings on foods and beverages. We look for a season of good clean fun, up to the point where the customer and the proprietor enter into a hassle over what it all means, and, if so, what of it? Our guess is that the boss will have only a vague idea what the poster means and that the customer's notions will be wholly speculative. Each had better carry his own referee.

"These eating places serve seventy million meals a day," says the OPS announcement. "Up to now the public has had no easy way of knowing what the price ceilings were." From now on it may have a slightly easier way of knowing, if the lunchroom lighting is good and if the chart isn't too near the art calendar of the nude bathing beauty. But we are going to carry an interpreter, a lightning calculator, a decoder, and at least two lawyers with us any time we decide to eat and demand OPS observance at the same time. (It might be judicious to carry a parachute, a copy of the state athletic association fight regulations and a Red Cross kit.)

For sheer excitement we would like to have a ringside seat at the fight where a customer and the proprietor take up the issue involving two soft-boiled eggs, buttered toast, Federal control and the correct size for poster type. The OPS regulations can set back the cause of world peace and brotherhood for years. There will be reason for UN intervention the first time a customer, after ordering corned beef hash with a

"Valley of the Eagles" is a cluttered chase-story filmed in Scandinavia. A Swedish scientist (John McCallum) sets out after his wife and assistant who have fled with his internationally important invention. Initial stages are clogged by trivia and pointless melodramatics.

"All I told you it would break your heart, and how do I know Washington ain't got a ceiling on heartbreaks?"

"All I know is the poster says hash and egg should be 85 cents in the interest of world accord, better economic conditions and preparedness."

"Listen, wise guy, I got my eggs from a poultryman named Schmidt. I'll bet this bird Arnnal don't even keep hens. And what does Washington know about hash?"

"It should know plenty. It has hashed up a lot of things down there. You're charging me a nickel too much for my rice pudding, too, according to the poster."

"That wasn't rice pudding, it was bread pudding with raisins. And you're reading the wrong line on the chart. You're looking at the price of razzleberry pie with clipped krim, which we don't keep on account of it is a typographical error."

Carry on from there. Our advice is to bring your lunch and avoid arguments.

An Indianapolis man has opened a self-service auto repair shop, a sort of flivver "automat" into which you drive a car, deposit a coin and fix it yourself . . . If he can combine it with one of those laundromats, where the wife does the washing these days, and put in some pinball, hamburger and coke machines, the American idea of life will approach the ideal . . . Groner Calls School Jointure Meeting For Monday, April 28

Officials Of Four Districts Are Invited

School board directors and school officials of Delaware Water Gap Borough and Stroud and Hamilton Townships have been invited to attend a meeting at Stroudsburg High School Monday, April 28 at 7:45 p.m. to learn about possible advantages in a joint school district.

The invitation was issued by Earl F. Groner, Stroudsburg superintendent of schools, in a letter to the boards and school officials this week. The Daily Record learned last night.

Also invited to the April 28 meeting are County Superintendent John C. Little and Assistant Superintendent Walter H. Sebring.

The current move toward jointure in Monroe County follows a pattern first set by Chestnut Hill and Ross Townships which formed a jointure four months ago.

Hamilton Township has previously investigated the potential advantages in a jointure with the Chestnut Hill-Ross school district. Shortly after that conference, Mrs. Andrew Keiser, president of the Hamilton board said that Hamilton is interested in a possible jointure with any school district, not necessarily a specific jointure.

Mrs. Keiser will address a forthcoming meeting of the Hamilton Township Civic League on the subject of jointure, according to the Elwood Haney, a member of the Hamilton board who said last night that the board had received a copy of the Groner invitation.

Indications were last night that all three school boards and/or school officials from the districts will accept the Stroudsburg invitation.

Renewed interest in possible jointures between school districts in Monroe County may be traced to added subsidization through State finances. During the past six months the State has carried on an intensive campaign to encourage jointure in all areas which would benefit by it.

At a meeting of the Monroe County PTA two weeks ago a State official from the Department of Education outlined procedures for jointure and described the two central methods used in forming a jointure between two or more school districts.

YMCA Board Seeks Federal Permission To Erect Building

Directors of the Monroe County YMCA last night authorized its Building Committee, headed by Dr. J. F. Noonan, to seek National Procurement Board permission to go ahead with the new building program and to obtain the necessary priorities for materials.

The object is to start work on the new YMCA as soon as possible, said Dayton W. Frankenfield, president of the board, at the directors' meeting in the Wyckoff tearoom.

Reports were presented by the three sub-committee chairmen and Harold T. Rinker, of the Rinker and Kiefer firm of architects. Dr. Noonan said the general committee had held two meetings at which the building project had been given careful consideration. Approximately $250,000 is available at present for the project, it was stated.

Jesse Flory, chairman of the committee on site, said his co-workers had given this matter careful consideration, visited realtors, besides personal inspections but could find no new logical site available at this time. The committee suggested the possibility of having the new building face Williams St.

General Secretary John R. Wilson read the report of the program and budget committee, of which J. Albert Groner is chairman. This committee reported as essentials swimming pool, gymnasium, main lobby, recreation room, combination lobby and game room for boys, an all-age-purpose room where large assemblies could be held and possible division in smaller meeting rooms.

The committee also called for a craft shop, main office for general secretary and one for boys' director and physical director, snack bar and adequate rest room and toilet facilities. It was also suggested that boys be segregated from adult areas for each group, also traffic to the physical department be isolated from approaches to meeting room. Elimination of dormitories and bowling alleys unless funds are available to provide for their installation was also advised.

Dr. Noonan, chairman of the plans and specifications committee, said first steps were to secure permission for building and for priorities. If successful in these approaches, other steps would be decided on how much of the building program could be carried out with funds available, secure bids after which final action could be taken and work gotten under way.

Ronson Has No Plans To Shift Plant

Newark, N. J. (AP) — A. H. Ronson, vice president of Ronson Art Metal Co., said yesterday "present plans do not include shifting our East Stroudsburg, Pa., plant to a new site in Woodbridge," south of here.

Aronson, whose firm is the world's largest producer of cigarette lighters, said the company has made a down payment on a 59-acre tract of land in Woodbridge for expansion purposes.

Aronson said Ronson needs more room for expansion and increased production, not available at its present Newark site. The tract is located near Route 25—main New York-Philadelphia artery—15 miles south of here.

Woodbridge officials said Ronson has made a down payment of $5,900, a tenth of the fixed minimum price on the land which will be auctioned off April 15.

"We don't expect to move our East Stroudsburg plant to Jersey. Where the story started and why they should be concerned, I don't know," Aronson said.

He said the company has talked over its plans with officials of the CIO-United Auto Workers, bargaining agent, and "they know all about them."

The firm employs more than 2,000 members of Amalgamated Local 589 (UAW-CIO) in Newark and approximately 1,400 persons at its East Stroudsburg plant.

East Borough Stores May Change Hours

East Stroudsburg merchants are giving careful consideration to a plan for opening stores Friday nights.

Hanford Cleveland, president of the East Borough Merchants Association said last night he has named Paul Lloyd to head a committee to promote the plan and discuss the issue.

Cleveland added the final decision will be made at a general meeting of the association Monday, April 21 and indicated if Friday night opening is favored, the plan probably would go into effect in several weeks.

Natural Gas Firm Claims Supply Tight

Washington (AP) — The Federal Power Commission was told yesterday that the Columbia Gas System does not have enough gas to provide service to three additional Pennsylvania towns.

The statement was made by officials of the company in presenting exhibits to the commission relative to its supplies and demands for natural gas.

The commission is hearing the application by gas companies serving Bangor, Pen Argyl and Stroudsburg, Pa., for an order directing the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. to supply them with natural gas. Manufacturers would obtain the gas from Columbia.

The hearing is a resumption of arguments before the commission about a year ago. At that time, commission officials said, the Pennsylvania Utilities Commission opposed the request of the three local gas companies on grounds that Columbia, so long as there is a shortage of gas, should care for existing customers rather than add new ones.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'll admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—are what they used to be.

But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning.

What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflo Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Covers standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

New Kind Of Furnace Put Under Floor

The compact gas or oil-burning floor furnace that can be installed beneath the floor and out of the way has practically revolutionized house heating.

Last year total floor furnace production was nearly one-half million units—more than the total of all other types of warm air furnaces.

Floor furnaces heat by circulating warm air but do not require ducts, cold air returns or blowers. Cool air is pulled off the floor into the floor furnace. The air expands as it is heated. Expansion of the heated air forces warm air circulation throughout the house.

The Coleman Company reports recent improvements have greatly increased the popularity of floor furnaces. One is a streamlined bottom that increases air flow as much as 35 per cent. A dual wall model that fits beneath an inside wall and discharges heat into two separate rooms even though the connecting door is closed, has gained widespread approval.

The same company advocates use of two or more floor furnaces with individual controls to obtain the advantage of "zoned" heat. Cost of installing two floor furnaces often is less than the cost of a conventional central heating plant.

Floor furnaces are made in several sizes to heat single-story dwellings with or without basements.

Porch Floor Can Be Resurfaced

A wooden porch floor which has become worn and rough from exposure to the weather can be given a smooth, weather-resistant surface by the following method:

Replace any rotted boards with sound ones, scrape the surface of the porch to remove as much as possible of the roughness. Then cover with a thick layer of white lead. Over the white lead place canvas, well pressed down so that it will have complete adhesion to the white lead. Be careful to see that all edges and corners are imbedded in the white lead to prevent leakage of water under the canvass. Then finish with two or three coats of high quality porch or deck enamel recommended for outside use.

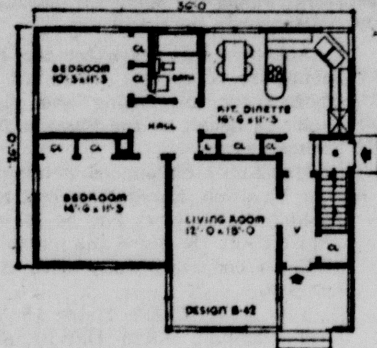

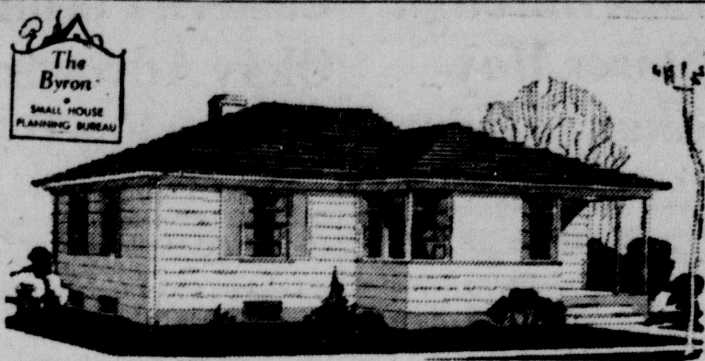

The manufacturer's directions on the container should be carefully followed.

Reflect Hobby In Man's Room

Make the room occupied by a man reflect his special interests. Strong wall colors and a light-colored floor contrast pleasingly with leather-bound furniture. Lamps with brown bases and beige shades picturing fishing, hunting, horse or nautical scenes, depending on his hobby, create interest. One huge picture repeating this motif, or a group of six or eight small prints telling a story on the subject, is effectively centered on one plain wall. Avoid ornate picture frames. Draperies with large plaid designs are better than figured hangings.

To Lighten Halls

If your hallway is dark, don't select a deep-toned wall paint. An ivory-tan is pleasing for both wall and woodwork surfaces. Black is effective for the floor and may be further embellished with a flower motif painted in the center.

THE BYRON has a compact plan which features circulation between the rooms. All rooms open into a small central hall. The living room, kitchen and basement are served by the front vestibule.

There is ample closet space in The Byron. Each bedroom has a twin wardrobe. There is a linen closet in the hall, a broom closet in the kitchen and a coat closet at each entrance. The Byron's kitchen-dining room is a cheerful workshop with corner windows over the sink. The equipment is compactly as well as efficiently arranged. There is cross ventilation and the room is convenient to the front entrance as well as to the bedroom area. The exterior of The Byron is finished with siding or shingles. The low hip roof with its wide overhang gives it a modern appearance.

Overall dimensions of The Byron are 36 feet by 32 feet 6 inches. This includes a full basement. The Byron's floor area is 1027 square feet. The house contains a volume of 18,000 cubic feet. For further information about The Byron, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Slanting Windows Add Light

Daylight admitted by basement windows can be almost doubled by replacing existing small conventional sashes with windows slanting away from the top of the foundation and enclosing the triangular end spaces between the foundation and new sashes with glass.

If the foundation wall is masonry block permitting easy removal, take out a section beneath each window and excavate bays 4 feet high, 3 feet deep and as wide as the window openings. Line this with thin cinder or concrete blocks. Slant the new windows from the top of the foundation to the outer edge of the bay.

Solid concrete is difficult to remove but windows can be slanted with this construction by installing concrete slabs on top of the ground beside the window openings and resting the lower edge of the new windows on the outer edge of the slabs. All joints should be absolutely wind and watertight.

Telephone Raceways Save Walls

Two of the most prudent precautions to take in building a new home today are the installation of adequate electric outlets for the constantly growing number of household appliances and the installation of telephone raceways.

After a modern insulated house is completed it becomes difficult and expensive to change its wiring system.

Telephone raceways are pre-installed connections that facilitate future instrument installation at almost any point in a house.

The advantages of plug-in telephones are something worth considering, especially in two-story homes. With a plug-in system, an instrument can be moved from one room to another and back again at will.

Built-in raceways simplify auxiliary telephone installations and eliminate damage to walls and decoration.

A substitute for built-in raceways has been developed in a raceway baseboard. This consists of two extruded aluminum interlocking elements. The lower one is screwed to the floor and the upper is a removable plate—the two concealing all wiring in a fire-safe panel.

Pipe Moisture No Problem; Insulation Halts Condensation

Moisture condensation on cold water pipes in summer and slow arrival of hot water to an open faucet in winter can both be cured by proper insulation, experts say.

Condensation results when warm, humid air strikes the cold pipe, causing drops of water to form.

It is most frequently observed on exposed pipes in basements in summer, but is even more insidious when it remains undiscovered on hidden pipes. It often becomes quite serious when pipes are hidden beneath floors or in walls, for the water drip will damage plaster. The cure is to wrap exposed pipes with mineral wool insulation or molded insulating jackets. For pipes in floors, the remedy is to close all openings through which warm house air can reach the piping. Full-thick wall insulation will prevent trouble there. Loose, modulated mineral wool is easily blown into walls and other inaccessible spaces in an existing house and not only reduces the danger of

Students Hear Discussion Of Careers

Representatives from 19 career fields addressed students of Stroudsburg High School yesterday afternoon.

The professional men and women acted as "instructors" before a series of three classes during the afternoon. Each "class" was made up of a different group of students who had expressed interest in the field discussed.

Two of the representatives came from outside this area. These were Miss Eleanor Little, an airline hostess for Eastern Airlines and Miss Naomi Hauser, nurse education - superintendent at St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem.

Representatives attending the conference from Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and vicinity were Mrs. Ruth Sibley who spoke on "secretarial work"; J. L. Cohen who discussed "accounting and book-keeping" and Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College who addressed interested students on their possible future in "teaching".

Selling in stores and general sales were treated as two different subjects with William Wyckoff in charge of the first discussion and the latter directed by Jack Labar.

Boys who were interested in the potentialities of a trade as a machinist were addressed by Robert Phillips while Wendell Wicks discussed farming.

District Game Protector John Doebling talked on "animal husbandry and conservation."

Preparation for a job in "building trades" was outlined by Loring Cramer. Ralph Speiser was in charge of the discussions on "engineering".

"Radio and television repair" job offerings were treated by Robert Bixler with Ottmar Thomas devoting three 30-minute periods to a discussion of "automotive repair".

The potentialities of careers in "drafting" (mechanical drawing) were shown by Harry Walz. Comments on "journalism" were given by Leonard Randolph.

All but one of the career discussion periods were given in the afternoon. The lone exception was made during the morning when Dr. Charles S. Flagler addressed interested students on the current advisability of attempting a career in medicine.

School officials expressed the hope yesterday afternoon following the close of the conference that the students had gotten information which might otherwise have been unavailable to them. Alfred Munson, school principal and Samuel Wells, assistant principal had charge of the arrangements for the conference. Both expressed their personal gratitude to the persons who had participated in the session.

High Water Hinders Search For Body Of Drowned Youth

Masthope—The body of Roy Hess, 13, believed drowned in the Delaware River near here Sunday, still was being sought yesterday by police and scores of riverbank residents.

High water and vicious currents in the river have prevented launching of small boats from which to extend the search.

State police from Milford station and from New York have been checking the river edge regularly on both sides in hope of finding some evidence of the Packanack Lake, N. J. boy.

The tragedy occurred shortly after the canoe was launched near this village Sunday morning. Young Hess and a friend, Fred Sherman, 15, Packanack Lake, embarked for a downstream trip to Port Jervis.

About 20 minutes later a three-foot wave swamped the canoe. The two boys struck out for the New York side of the river. Sherman helped the younger boy to within 30 feet of shore, then lost his hold. Sherman said Hess was about 12 feet from the bank and still swimming when last seen. Sherman crawled out, and found his friend had disappeared.

Bridge police downstream were notified to be on the lookout, and police teletypes carried the message a score of miles downstream.

SHOCKING BUSINESS

WHEN Dick DeMichele "gets the shakes," he isn't suffering from a fever, he's only doing his job. He is a shake and shock testing expert for General Electric plant in Schenectady, N. Y. Using tools ranging from small microphones to tons of intricate devices, he has measured vibrations in everything from a lumbering elephant to Chicago's streetcars. DeMichele checks "shakes" of tanks, planes, ships and even jitterbugs on a dance floor. As a result of his tests, many vessels served through World War II with less stress and strain. In a lighter vein, he found that the late gorilla Gargantua had a voice no stronger than a canary's and that elephants are among the lightest steppers in the circus.

Holy Week Services Announced

Mount Pocono—Holy Week services at the Mt. Pocono Methodist church will include Holy Communion Thursday night at 8 with the pastor, Rev. Philip Palmer, bringing a brief communion meditation message. The Preparatory Class of 16 members recently received into full membership of the church will receive their first communion at this service.

Good Friday afternoon, a service will be held from 1:30 to 2:30.

On Easter Sunday at 11 a.m., the pastor will speak on "The Easter Meaning." Both the Junior and Senior Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Williams, Pocono Manor, will sing separate numbers and one combined number. The sanctuary will be decorated with memorial Easter plants.

Palm Sunday was fittingly observed when the pastor spoke on "The Master Marches On." The anthems sung by the choir included "The Palms" by the Junior Choir and "All Glory, Laud and Honor" by the Senior Choir. The bulletins for this service were presented by Mrs. Mildred Schutt and Mrs. Henry Cruse in memory of their mother, the late Mrs. Susan Werkheiser.

Businesses Commended By Churches

New York—The growing number of business firms that arrange to excuse employees for church attendance on Good Friday, or close altogether for the three hour period when most services are held, were commended yesterday by Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, general secretary of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA.

An increasing number of churches in recent years are holding services on Good Friday, or joining in co-operative services, Dr. Cavert pointed out.

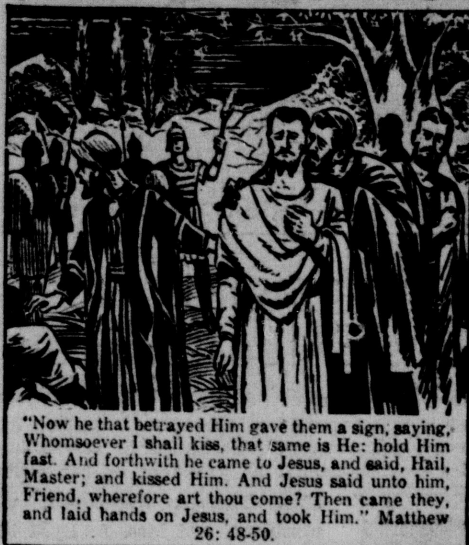

"The outstanding fact, however, is the active interest business firms and communities are taking in the observance of the most solemn occasion in the Christian religion," he said.

In the nation's capital, for example, in 1941 only 35 Protestant and Roman Catholic churches held Good Friday Services. By last year, more than 80 churches in the metropolitan area held three-hour devotions and worshippers had to queue up in the streets to wait admittance to crowded downtown churches. Services were also held in the Pentagon, the Department of Agriculture and the Interior, at Walter Reed Army and Bethesda Naval Hospital. By Presidential directive, all government employees were given time off to attend church, and by unwritten agreement private businesses also excused their employees for the three-hour period.

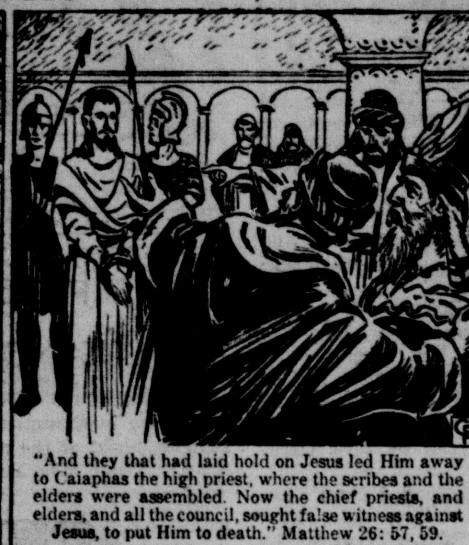

In New York City, the Stock Exchange has closed all day on Good Friday at least since 1900, but in recent years a growing number of business firms arrange to excuse their employees for attendance at services, and in Brooklyn, more and more stores close for the three hours in the afternoon. More churches, too, report Good Friday services, and attendance at the five-year-old interdenominational Lenten services in Town Hall was reported reaching a peak of attendance this year.

Dr. Harold S. Pond will be out of town from April 7 to April 15. —Adv.

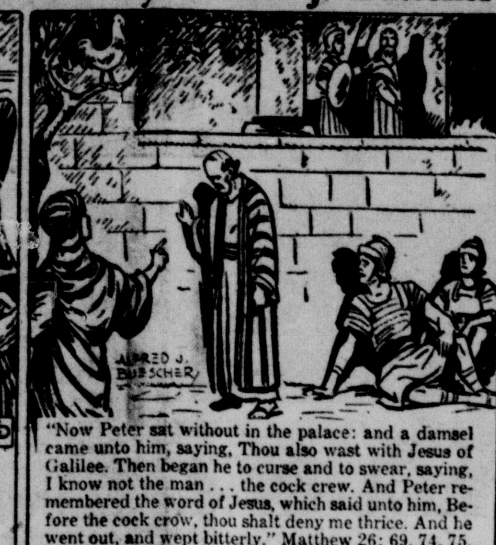

ROAD TO RESURRECTION

"Now he that betrayed Him gave them a sign, saying, Whosoever I shall kiss, that same is He: hold Him fast. And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, Master; and kissed Him. And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took Him. Matthew 26: 48-50.

"And they that had laid hold on Jesus led Him away to Calaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled. Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put Him to death. Matthew 26: 57, 59.

"Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee. Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. . . the cock crew. And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crew, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly. Matthew 26: 69, 74, 75.

First Presbyterian Outline Observance For Holy Week

The First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg announces through its pastor, Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, the following services for the Holy Week observance:

Tonight at 7:30 a preparatory service for Holy Communion will be held. Members of the church will be confronted with the claims of the Christian life so that they may engage in self-examination and thus be led to the experience of the Lord's Supper. At 7, just before this service, the church session will convene with the members of the Communicants Class, who seek membership in the church. The young people will give evidence of their faith and knowledge and declare their willingness to accept Jesus as Saviour and Lord.

Immediately following the preparatory service the adults who will be received into the membership of the church will meet with the members of the session and their wives. These new members will make answers to questions relative to their faith in Christ and will be introduced to the church by members of the session who will describe church activities and church obligations.

On Thursday night at 7:30 the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed. The new members will be received publicly into the fellowship of the church. The sacrament of adult baptism will be administered. A memorial minute will be observed for those members of the church who died during the year. Special music will be provided at this service by the Westminster and Senior vested choirs of the church.

On Friday a three-hour service will be held from noon to 3 p.m. The Zion Reformed Church will share in this service, as will the ministers of the four neighboring Presbyterian churches in Monroe County. Fuller announcement of this service will be made later in the week.

On Easter Sunday morning two identical worship services will be held, one at 9 and one at 11. At 7:30 p.m. the young people of the church will present their annual Easter candlelight vesper service.

... says S. W. TANNER
Veteran's Gas and Service Co., Pueblo, Colorado

"In all-round satisfactory performance, dependability and economy, our Dodge 'Job-Rated' 2-ton trucks have done a remarkable job for us."

"In fact, one truck has 80,000 miles on it, and the only replacement has been a new jet in the carburetor. That's economical maintenance you just can't beat!"

"My partner, Eric Samuelson, swears by Dodge, too ... says our 2-ton trucks handle just like a passenger car."

Look first for the truck that best fits your job! Look for strong, rugged load-carrying units—frame, springs, axles, wheels, and others—engineered to provide the strength and capacity you need. Look for load-moving units—engine, clutch, transmission, and others—engineered to meet the most severe operating conditions.

Look, too, for a powerful engine, easy steering, short turning ability, and extra payload capacity. You'll get all these advantages when you choose a Dodge "Job-Rated" 1½- or 2-ton truck.

Yes, look for the best in a 1½- or 2-ton truck, and you'll find it in a Dodge. Come in today.

Big Power at a Saving. Dodge "Job-Rated" 1½- and 2-ton trucks feature a high-compression 109-h.p. engine. For outstanding economy, you get 4-ring pistons, chrome-plated top rings, and other advantages.

Republican Womens Councils Honor State President At Luncheon Meeting Here

Republican women representing 14 councils in the northeast district yesterday paid tribute to Mrs. Russell W. Dixon, State president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, at a luncheon sponsored by the Monroe Council at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Mrs. Dixon in turn paid tribute to the Monroe County women, who in a recent survey by the political activities committee were shown to have voted 93 per cent of the registered women voters in the county. This is the second highest percentage in the district surpassed only by Sullivan County with 96 per cent voting, she reported.

Mrs. Dixon outlined the history of the state council, soon to celebrate its 30th anniversary, with a membership of 55,000 women in 350 councils, the largest group in the national federation. She pointed out how the aims of the council, created for political education, increased registration, and equal representation for women, were still being promoted.

The council maintains also its principles of financial independence, and neutrality in primaries. Mrs. Dixon, who has been appointed as delegate-at-large from Pennsylvania to the 1962 National Republican Convention, assured the group that whoever would be chosen by the convention as the party's candidate for President would be a good one, and worthy of the 100 per cent support of every voter, in what she termed the most crucial election in history.

Captain John Craig, Republican candidate for United States House of Representatives also termed the coming election the most critical. America can only be brought back to the ideals in which she was born and made by leaders who still believe in God and the ethics He taught.

Captain Craig was introduced by Ben K. Williams, Monroe County Republican chairman, who pointed out that the local council of women do win elections. With 52 percent of the American homes now in bankruptcy, he said, the coming election is the one that counts.

He also introduced Senator Montgomery F. Crowe, who warned that with Truman's withdrawal, the Southern Democrats might again join forces with the Democrats of the North, and that the Republicans really faced a fight ahead.

Mrs. J. Russell Custard, president of the Monroe Council of Republican Women, hosts to the group, and newly appointed membership chairman of the northeast district presided at the luncheon, as she had at the workshop session in the morning when the council presidents, membership and finance chairmen of the district met with the state leaders.

Mrs. Maude P. Detweiler, state membership chairman, was also introduced and urged not only membership in the council but missionary work among voters, 900,000 of whom did not vote in the last election.

Mrs. Myrtle Applebaugh, vice chairman of Northampton county committee, and secretary, introduced Mrs. Craig.

Invocation for the luncheon was given by Mrs. Walton J. Dietrich, and the pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Olaf J. Pedersen, who also reported on the registration of 164 women, and introduced the presidents of the councils represented:

Mrs. Walter Roberts, of the Lackawanna County Council of Federated Republican Women; Mrs. George Jones, Dunmore Club; Mrs. Helen Evans, West Side Council; Mrs. Walter Roberts, 1943 club; Mrs. Genevieve Mecca, 1951 City and County club; Mrs. Lucy Evans, Blakely Club; Mrs. Helen Guse, South Side; Mrs. Grace Kaugher, 1938 Green Ridge; and Mrs. Almeda Johnson, Liberty Council; all of the members of the Lackawanna Council.

Also represented were Mrs. Werner Jung of the Pike County Council; Mrs. George Humphrey, Pocono Mountain Council; Mrs. J. Melvin Kelley, Susquehanna County Council and Mrs. Sue Price, Barrett Township Council. Prize for securing the most registrations during the year was presented by Mrs. Custard to Mrs. Fannie Kintner as the award given by B. K. Williams.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Doug Gordon's the clever one! When he hung white ruffled curtains at a make-believe window in our fabric department, he tucked nosebags of forget-me-nots and roses into the tie-backs. It's a novel way of using Wyckoff's pretty floral accessories, and a hint home-makers will appreciate since the effect's as cute as a crocus! . . . One would hardly expect anything so tiny to attract so much attention, yet the little "shy violet" enameled pin with its cultured pearl, attached to the collar of my blouse the other day, drew compliments galore. "That's a lovely pin," my co-workers enthused. "It's very old, isn't it?" Talk about walking-on air (looms)! This was such definite proof, you see, that Wyckoff jewelry at $1 plus tax looks so "treasureable" . . . Yesterday a customer, physically unable to climb the stairs at Wyckoff's, asked if the Wyckoff Shopper would bring an assortment of blouses to the first floor. As she made her selection, I couldn't help wishing that everyone, who finds shopping impossible because of illness or age, would call upon me for a similar service. Such requests make my work interesting fun . . . Be sure to schedule your shopping on Friday so that you won't arrive in town between 12 and 3 p. m. That's when Wyckoff employees will be in church. See you there! . . . Nothing could be cuter than the aprons being worn by the girls of our Tea Room and fountain, now that Easter's drawing near. Of sheer elegance, the color of buttercups in the sun, they are embroidered with bunnies and colored eggs, and each rabbit has a fluffy tail of cotton. Wonder if it would be appropriate to describe them as "eggquisite" and Wyckoff food as "eggcellent"? . . . A few hops away, in the needlework department, are Bunny Lunch crib quilts all stamped and ready for embroidery. For $2.39 and a little effort, one can have a priceless gift for that new baby or an Easter-conscious toddler . . . On the same counter are cotton half-aprons, bound and stamped, selling for $1.29 and $1.59. The teen-ager and the young bride will love them! . . . And in our center aisle near the candy counter is a large table covered with Easter baskets in all shapes, sizes and colors, priced from 10c to 89c. Why not buy several in readiness for Peter Cottontail's visit? After all, you wouldn't want to carry all your eggs in ONE basket, now would you?

Postoffice Expands Service With Only One Per Cent Increase In Manpower

In spite of increased service to residents and augmented over-the-counter transactions during the past year, Stroudsburg's Postoffice is using less than one per cent more man-hours to accomplish its task, according to Fred Rhodes, postmaster.

Proof that service is being extended is evidenced today with the installation of two new corner boxes, one at N. Fifth St., near Bleck's Store, and another at Pocono Park Drive and Bridge St.

In volume the postoffice has increased its business annually since construction in 1935, and in 1951 handled $130,246.07. In 1950 figures show $117,445.57 was received by the employees there.

With a force of 27 on the payroll, Rhodes said, the employees have dispatched mail in large quantities, pointing to the land-office business of December when Christmas mailing accounted for $24,912.81 in receipts. In 1950 only $18,228.86 was realized during the same month.

And the Christmas rush, while increasing five per cent in numbers, required 20 per cent fewer man hours to fulfill, Rhodes said, with 34 additional workers given jobs to handle the flow.

Another outstanding credit to the local postoffice is their postal savings deposits. Fifty-five accounts total $50,603.

Postage stamp sales in 1951 totaled $30,803.30 and 2,644,113 letters were cancelled. At present approximately 10,000 letters are postmarked daily.

Latest reports from the baseball world indicate that Billy Long, second sacker with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1946 and 1950, will manage the Tarboro, N. C., entry in the class "D" Coastal Plain League, and not serve as captain and infielder as previous reports indicated. However, Long undoubtedly will be playing pilot for the farm club of the Scranton Miners, of the class "A" Eastern League. Long also piloted the Bangor-Berwick franchise during the 1949 campaign.

Tarboro has a working agreement with Scranton, which in turn is owned by Lou Baselle, former stockholder in the Stroudsburg Poconos. Long first served under Baselle in reekskill, where the likeable Long held down second base and served as field captain. Baselle, the man who has turned the paper trade into a fortune, was owner of the Peekskill franchise at that time. Billy, one of the all-time favorites with the Poconos, has the best wishes of everyone in this area on his newest diamond venture.

Bill Bailey, Stroudsburg High football and basketball performer, is a member of the Tannersville roster in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League. Harold Wertheimer and Art Youngken, former Pocono High athletes, are home on a 14-day leave from their naval base at Bainbridge, Md. Benny Borgman, featured speaker at the recent Blue Mountain League baseball banquet, at Tatamy, is now hard at work with the St. Louis Cardinals' farm clubs in Albany, Ga. Borgman is also basketball coach at Muhlenberg.

Dick Umberger, the biggest and best pitcher on the Lebanon, North Atlantic League roster in 1949, is now a member of the Omaha entry in the class "A" Western League. "Fidge" Browne, left handed swinger who received his start in professional baseball with Peekskill, of the North Atlantic League, is back at his familiar right field post with Allentown at the present time, at its Albany, Ga. training base. Alden "Red" Fetherman, outstanding three-letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, is seriously considering several college scholarship offers.

Art Wall, well known golf professional from Honesdale, bagged another hole-in-one on the second hole of the Hope Valley Country Club, at Durham, N. C., while setting a course record of 82, which is eight under par figures. Wall, known as the professional with the most aces, bagged his latest hole-in-one on the 215-yard second hole, with a number two iron. Wall plays a lot of golf in Monroe County, especially on the Pocono Manor course.

Louie Lee, one of the best bowlers in the area, is a former star baseball player for the Bushkill entry in the Pocono Mountains League. The Varsity "S" Club banquet, slated for Thursday, May 22, will be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. However, a featured speaker hasn't been selected at the present time, but an announcement along this line is expected to be made in the very near future.

Harry Schaeffer, graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and former pitcher with the Stroudsburg Poconos, has apparently picked up two new nicknames since almost assuring himself of a regular pitching berth with the Bronx Bombers for the coming campaign. The new nicknames are "Skinny Man" and "Canary Legs" and knowing Harry, it's obvious that both names have a foundation. In fact, some veteran baseball observers are slightly worried over Harry's inability to gain weight.

East Stroudsburg High School held a lengthy baseball workout yesterday and it was learned that the Cavaliers would hold several practice sessions at the East Stroudsburg Play-ground during the Easter vacation. Four different officials are scheduled to work the two final tournament games at Stroudsburg High tonight.

The Stroudsburg High faculty took a lesson from the students in a rifle match last night, on the school range. Wilkes College faces a 13-game baseball slate this Spring, with East Stroudsburg State Teachers College providing the opposition in one of the contests. ESTSC meets Wilkes in Wilkes-Barre, on Saturday, May 10, in an afternoon contest. It is the second game to be played that day by Wilkes.

Dodgers Capture Rubber Game Of Spring Series From Braves

Richmond, Va., (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers captured the rubber game of their nine-game exhibition set with the Boston Braves here yesterday by whipping the Braves, 4-1, behind the tight pitching of Clem Labine.

Two Clubs To Use Coolbaugh High Field

Tobyhanna—The problem of two teams and one baseball field was placed in the hands of the respective organizations last night by the Board of Education, during a meeting here at Coolbaugh High school.

The Pocono Lake-Tobyhanna combined entry in the Pocono Mountains League and the newly formed Tobyhanna club, a part of the Pocono Mountains Baseball Association, have been ordered to work out their schedule in such a manner that both teams use the Coolbaugh High diamond.

Closed Dates
Both teams were warned that they could use the field at any time except Fridays, June 6, 13 and 20, at which time the Coolbaugh Township Volunteer Fire Co. has the field reserved for its annual carnival.

The Pocono Lake-Tobyhanna club was represented at last night's meeting by "Babe" Miller, while Charley "Chubby" Deubler represented the newly formed Tobyhanna entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball Association.

Onawa Club Downs Faculty

Onawa Rifle Club had little trouble winning over the Stroudsburg High School faculty last night, 840 to 429, in a rifle match held on the Stroudsburg High range.

Scores
The Onawa members and scores follow: John Dennis, 80; Ray Fitzgerald, 85; John Minnick, 78; Joe Tamulis, 85; Eugene Anglemeyer, 76; Jack Ifft, 95; Jim Ifft, 93; Fred Smith, 80; Barry Albert,

A home run by Duke Snider, one of two he collected for the afternoon, got the Brooklyn off to a 1-0 lead in the first frame and they stayed ahead. Gil Hodges smacked a homer for the Dodgers in the fifth and Snider followed with his second round-tripper in the sixth.

Wild Throw
The other Dodger run came in the third when a wild throw by Pitcher Jim Wilson, Boston starter, allowed Carl Furillo to slide in from third base.

The Braves got their only run in the sixth when Labine loaded the sacks and Sam Jethroe tallied on a fly to centerfield by Pete Whelan.

It was the first complete nine-inning job of the Spring for Labine, who gave eight hits. The Dodgers won the series from the Braves, five games to four.

Indians Gain Nod Over Giants

Houston, Tex. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians walloped the New York Giants once again yesterday afternoon, 5-0, for the Tribe's tenth victory in 12 starts with the National League champions.

Bobby Feller, a 22-game winner last year, pitched the first seven innings for the Indians, holding the Giants to five hits. The losers got three off George Zuverink, who finished up.

Poor Support
Jimmy Hearn went the first seven innings for the Giants. Hearn gave up only five hits and also would have been unscathed upon except for three infield errors which permitted two runs to cross the plate in the fifth. The other runs were made on three hits and a walk off George Spencer in the eighth.

Tournament Champions To Be Crowned Today

Action Set For Stroudsburg High Court

Basketball vanishes from the scene today, as the Junior Gold Medal and Senior YMCA tournaments feature their final and championship rounds at Stroudsburg High School. The Junior Gold Medal contest is scheduled to get underway at 7 p.m., while the Senior YMCA affair is slated to begin at approximately 8:15.

The Junior Gold Medal contest will send Cramer's Cut Rate against the Pocono Pines Shopping Center, a club made up of the Tobyhanna Township High school varsity game machine that won its third straight Monroe County League championship during the past campaign.

Pocono Pines advanced to the final round with a 59-53 victory over Penn-Dell in the semi-final bracket, while Cramer's contingent ran over Biggs' Restaurant at the same time, 80-47.

Second Tussle
The Senior YMCA battle will be fought between Newell's Awning Men and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Both advanced through their tournament field without the slightest bit of trouble to reach the championship round.

Newell's club won over Sherman Theater in the semi-final round, 97-69, while the Vets took the measure of Deerhead Inn in the first half of the same doubleheader, 79-57.

Admission for tonight's doubleheader is listed at 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. Bill Crooks and Dick Lee will officiate the opening game, while Ray Lambert and Dick Dean handle the whistles in the second contest.

The tournament committee will meet at the Monroe County YMCA to pick the various winners of awards tomorrow, at 7:30 p.m.

Phillies Fall Before Cards

Winston-Salem, N. C. (AP)—"Vinegar Bend" Mizell, the Cards' prize rookie pitcher, gave up only one hit in five innings yesterday as the St. Louis Cardinals slugged out a 9-8 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies.

One Hit
Mizell was touched for a blooper single by Mel Clark in the bottom of the fourth. He went out in the fifth when he tired. The Phils sent an even dozen batters to the plate in a big seventh inning. They scored seven runs off George "Red" Munger on six hits, three walks and two errors.

Dean To Stay Down On Farm

Oklahoma City (AP)—Dizzy Dean said yesterday his days in the baseball world are numbered. It's back to the farm for the once great pitcher, now a colorful radio sportscaster who addressed the annual Lions club-chamber of commerce baseball forum yesterday.

Surprise
He surprised a reporter during an interview with this announcement: "This is my last year of traveling around. Next year I'm going down on the farm to stay." The farm is near Dallas.

Right now he's on his way to St. Louis to attend the world premiere of "The Pride of St. Louis," a movie depicting part of Dizzy's career.

Ennis Returns To Hitting Form By Taking Advantage Of Musial's Sound Advice On Swinging For Distant Fences

Winston-Salem, N. C. (AP)—Del Ennis remembered something Stan Musial told him a few years ago and as a result the Ennis bat is booming as of old.

"A couple of years ago," said Ennis, "when they said Stan Musial was having a bad year because he was hitting only around .320, he said his average suffered because he was trying to hit home runs."

"In 1950, when I had a good year, it seemed easy to hit home runs. So I thought I'd have the same kind of season in 1951. But I didn't. This Spring I remembered what Musial had said and decided I was suffering from the same ailment."

"So," continued Del, "instead of trying to hit for distance this year, I decided to just try meeting the ball. I don't know how many hits I have made through the box or over the infield, but I know that that's where most of my hits are going. The home runs haven't been as numerous this year, maybe, but when I did hit one, I noticed that I hadn't swung as hard as I used to."

So far this Spring Ennis has hit safely 32 times for 95 times at bat, an average of .337. He has made five doubles, four homers and driven home 23 runs. Manager Eddie Sawyer is convinced that the big fellow is ready for a banner year. Last season, troubled by a bad back and apparently affected by the team's general slump, Ennis hit only .267. He had 15 homers and knocked home 73 runs, a very poor year for him.

"We've seen a lot of good pitchers this Spring and I've been pretty well satisfied the way my new system has been working out. I think I've hit the good pitchers better than I have the rookies and the wildmen," said Ennis.

Ennis' hitting improvement also has helped him in his fielding. Instead of standing in the outfield worrying about why he couldn't get his usual quota of base hits, his mind is free. He's been running high, wide and handsome after those long fly balls. Monday, for example, he made two game-saving catches, one with the bases loaded on Steve Bilko, and another on Harry "Peanuts" Lowery, as the Phillies beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5 to 4.

The Phillies have a good pitching staff. They had one last year. But Ennis the big man with the stick wasn't hitting. The runners were left on base. With Ennis once again smashing the ball to all fields the Phillies' pennant stock is booming.

Yankees Edge Charlotte In Pitching Duel

Good Pitching
The Yankee fireballer pitched to only 13 men, one drawing a base on balls. Reynolds came on in the sixth inning, after southpaw Ed Lopat had held the minor leaguers to four hits and an unearned run in five innings. The world champs managed only seven safeties off the curves of lefty Mike Dzingelowski and Zeke Zeiss. The latter, a bespectacled righthander, held the Yanks scoreless with only two hits over the final five frames to the delight of a crowd of 4,816.

Bob Cerv led the Yank attack with a triple and a single. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

Cubs Nip Browns, On Fondy's Homer

Oklahoma City (AP)—First baseman Dee Fondy slammed out a home run in the ninth inning to give the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns in an exhibition baseball game here yesterday. Fondy's 355-foot homer over the rightfield fence off relief pitcher Satchel Paige came with one man on base and two out.

Big Man
Shortstop Marty Marion was the big man at bat for the Browns. He got a single, two doubles and drove in three in five times at the plate. A crowd of 3,136 saw the game.

Senators Clip Reds On Homers

Bluefield, W. Va. (AP)—Four home runs provided most of the victory margin here yesterday as the Washington Senators edged out the Cincinnati Reds, 10-9, in an exhibition baseball game.

Gil Coan, Cass Michaels, Sam Mele and Mivkey Vernon walloped roundtrippers for the Senators. The Reds collected three four-baggers—by Ted Kluszewski, Andy Seminick and Joe Nuxhall.

Ace Battered

Washington battered Cincinnati's ace, Ewell Blackwell, for seven runs in the first three innings, then had to break a 7-7 deadlock in the seventh on Coan's homer after Cincinnati rallied.

A Red rally in the ninth fell short when "Hank" Edwards lined into a double play with the tying run on base.

Knicks Eliminate Nats From Playoffs

New York (AP)—The New York Knickerbockers won the National Basketball Association's eastern division playoffs last night eliminating the Syracuse Nationals 100-93 for their third victory in the best of five series.

Triumph sent the Knicks into the league's final best of seven playoffs against Minneapolis' Lakers in St. Paul Saturday night.

Womber Fights British Title Holder To Draw In London

London, (AP)—Danny Womber of Chicago and British welterweight champion Wally Thom battled to a ten-round draw last night in one of the liveliest fights seen here in years. Each weighed 151½.

From start to finish, the two-fisted slugging of both boys had the capacity crowd of 10,000 roaring in Empress Hall.

There were no knockdowns but the boys absorbed a lot of punishment as they stood toe to toe and slugged it out in the middle of the ring.

Verdict

Referee Sam Russell's draw verdict did not meet with the approval of most of the fans although a majority of ringside critics had the bout even. The Associated Press scoreboard gave each five rounds.

Womber, a Chicago Negro, came over here last year as middleweight champion Ray Robinson's sparring partner. He has been boxing all over Europe since.

Giants Acquire Elliott For Jones, Cash

New York (AP)—The New York Giants announced yesterday that they had acquired veteran third baseman Bob Elliott from the Boston Braves in exchange for pitcher Sheldon Jones and cash.

On Coast

Elliott, a holdout, has been working out with the San Diego team of the Pacific Coast League. The cash surrender was estimated at $50,000.

Elliott probably will play left field, a spot left vacant when Monte Irvin suffered a broken ankle in an exhibition game against Cleveland recently.

LaMotta Seeks Revenge In Detroit Ring

Detroit (AP) — Jake LaMotta, back in his "lucky city," says he'll stop Norman Hayes tonight in their ten-round battle at Olympia Stadium.

"And I'll get good and even with him," said Jake, the Bronx Bull who has lost only one fight in his 20 Detroit appearances.

The fight will be broadcast and telecast nationally starting at 10 p.m. EST. Jake will weigh about 165. Hayes decided LaMotta in January in Hayes' hometown of Boston. Despite that, the 21-year-old Negro is a seven to five underdog here.

Jake explains it: "This time we're boxing in Detroit, not Boston, and that means a great deal to me." His only Detroit conqueror was Sugar Ray Robinson.

Victory Note
Hayes also sounded the usual pre-fight victory note: "I see where Jake has his whole family here with him. Well, that won't help him. I was a little worried the first time. But now I know for sure I'll beat him."

Hayes also won a surprise decision over Robert Villmain in Boston in December. Since then he lost to Laurent Dauthuille and Charlie Humez in Paris on decisions he describes as "hometown."

Jake has never been knocked off his feet since he started his pro career in 1941.

The stocky 30-year-old veteran lost to Robinson and Bob Murphy in his only 1951 fights. Then after losing to Hayes and drawing with Eugene Hairton, Jake announced a new policy — a fight every month.

If Jake can beat Hayes, one date that could await Jake is with Randy Turpin in London in mid-summer.

In the semi-final bout Private Ray Barnes of Detroit will tackle Jerome Richardson of New York in a 162-pound, eight-round fight.

In the main preliminary — six rounds at 144 pounds — Dave Marsh of Akron faces Tommy Matthews of Detroit.

Simmons At Kilmer
New Brunswick, N. J. (AP) — Former Philadelphia Phillies pitcher Curt Simmons arrived at Kilmer yesterday and began processing for his discharge from the army.

He probably will be mustered out of the service sometime tomorrow morning, a post public information officer said last night.

A's Decision Red Sox, 4-3

Lynchburg, Va. (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics combined two singles with four bases on balls in the eighth inning for four runs here yesterday to whip the Boston Red Sox, 4-3, in an exhibition baseball game.

Until rookie hurler Jim Atkins lost control in the eighth, the Athletics had been blanked on two hits by Maurice McDermott.

McDermott had turned over to Atkins a 1-0 lead, fashioned on a home run in the sixth by Ted Williams.

After Atkins had walked the A's to a 4-1 lead, the Sox came back to score twice in the ninth on three singles and three Philadelphia errors before the Athletics' Dick Fowler put out the fire.

Mantle In Center
Charlotte, N. C. (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel indicated yesterday that Mickey Mantle has won the job as Joe DiMaggio's successor in centerfield for the world champion New York Yankees.

At the same time Stengel indicated he plans to start Gil McDougald at third in place of Andy Carey, the Yankee's newest rookie sensation.

First Contingent Of Men From 28th Division Sails For U.S. And Army Release

Goeppelgen, Germany, (AP)—Approximately 700 men from the 28th Infantry Division—mostly Pennsylvanians—are on their way home for discharge from the Army.

Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, commanding general, announced yesterday that the troops left this week from a port of embarkation, presumably Bremerhaven.

(Numbered among the troops returning are some of the men of the 109th Infantry Regiment, including at least two from Company G, East Stroudsburg. Names were not released.)

"During the ensuing months thousands of officers, warrant officers and enlisted men will leave the division and return to the United States to be separated from the service," General Strickler said.

The Lancaster, Pa., general added that, "It is my fervent hope that the training received while members of this command may assist all of you in facing the problems of your future occupations."

The names of the men enroute home were not disclosed. One of the first to leave was Sgt. Curt Simmons, major league baseball pitcher who arrived in this country Monday via airplane. Most of the others will return by ship.

A U. S. Army spokesman at Frankfurt said the men in the first contingent returning home were selected on a priority basis of dependents, wartime service, enlistment status and other factors.

Rule For Nailing

When deciding what size nail to use, remember that it should be three times the thickness of the board to be nailed. Clinching the end of the nail across the grain rather than with it will increase its holding power.

It is estimated that the average U. S. farmer produces more today in one hour of work than the farmer of 50 years ago produced in two.

Lindwood, chaplain; Mrs. Lawrence Simons, treasurer; Helen E. Broader Education Urged For All Citizens Of U.S.

In an address before the second national conference of the subcommittee on preprofessional education of the Survey of Medical Education yesterday, Clarence H. Faust, president of a Ford Foundation fund advocated a broader education for all American citizens.

"All of us," Faust said, "as human beings and citizens, must learn to solve two kinds of problems. The first of these is the kind which arises in our performance of our particular role in a highly specialized society. The second are those with which we are confronted alike as human beings and as citizens—such as the forthcoming general election."

Faust, formerly dean of humanities and science at Stanford University, earlier had stated: "There is a need to clarify the functions of the individual parts of the educational system. A definite clarification of educational philosophy is needed. There are too many debates and superficial battles in education."

Dr. Faust urged students and teachers alike to think of education in the broader sense, as from grade school through college instead of merely attempting to insert a few liberal arts courses in the first years of college.

Reports from all chapters in the subcommittee's survey will be heard at the closing session of the conference today.

Rifle Club Holds Shoot At School

The Junior Sportsmen's Rifle Club, sponsored by Pocono Mountain Sportsmen's Association, has concluded the first of three meetings with a "shoot" at the East Stroudsburg High School range.

Thirteen boys are members of the club and their total score this week went up to 508 points compared with 315 at the last meeting.

Three members of the senior sportsmen's group have joined the club in a perfect attendance record. They are Henry Cury of Mount Pocono, Harry Bolich of Stroudsburg, and Anthony Mazetti of Stroudsburg RD.

In addition to teaching safe use of firearms, the boys are also taught all elements of sportsmanship and good citizenship.

Betty Clugston Valedictorian Of Stroudsburg High Class; Zandra J. Lee Salutatorian

Stroudsburg High School has announced its valedictorian and salutatorian for the current school year.

The valedictorian of the Senior Class will be Betty Mae Clugston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clugston, 838 Thomas St., Stroudsburg.

Salutatorian honors have been awarded to Zandra Jane Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Lee, 501 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg.

Miss Clugston's major studies at the school have been in mathematics and science with specialization in chemistry and physics in the latter field.

She has been active in the Girls Chorus, Mixed Chorus and Madrigal Group and is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, Math Club, and the Pioneer (yearbook) staff. She appeared in forensic competitions on behalf of the school and was a member of this year's Senior play cast.

Miss Clugston is a member of the National Honor Society and was winner of the 1951 Junior class spelling championship.

She has been accepted at Pennsylvania State College and will attend that school next fall as a science major.

Miss Lee is a member of the Honor Society, the Math Club, Art Club and the Pioneer staff. She appeared in the Senior play this year and the Junior play in 1951. She is also a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, the Student Council and the Junior Historical Society.

She represented the Senior class in spelling at the Allentown contest and placed second last year in advanced mathematics at the annual "math tournament" at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Other awards include second place in the national French contest, Lehigh Valley Chapter; second in chemistry at the Northeastern Pennsylvania Science Fair. She has been awarded a small scholarship to Bucknell University but hopes to attend Swarthmore college next year.

School officials, in announcing their selection of the award-winners, said that this year's race was "extremely close" with only a fraction of a point between the two girls' averages.
